U.S. Jets Attack Hanoi, North Viet Radio Says

Four Planes Shot Down, Reds Claim

Say Pilots Taken Prisoner; New Act Of Escalation Cited

TOKYO (AP) —Radio Hanoi said U.S jet planes attacked suburbs and residential areas of Hanoi today and that North Vietnamese forces in the capital area shot down four of them. It said pilots of the planes were taken prisoner.

There was no confirmation of this from U.S. officials in Saigon.

The broadcast monitored in Tokyo said the raids amounted to "a new act of escalation."

Meanwhile, a U.S. warplane supporting a Marine drive dropped a bomb on a village 1,800 yards short of its intended target tonight and killed two Vietnamese civilians, an American spokesman announced. He said one civilian was injured.

The strike was made at the village of Thon-Phu Gia, 30 miles southwest of Hue. The mistaken bombing came roughly 80 miles from the border territory where two bombs that fell short from a supporting warplane killed 16 Marines and wounded 11 Saturday.

U.S. B52 Stratoforts unloaded a cascase of bombs on an enemy base camp close to Saigon and the Viet Cong retaliated with an outbreak of grenade throwing in and near the capital.

Although more than 1,000 South Vietnamese troops pushed a search-and-destroy mission in the Mekong Delta 105 miles south of Saigon, ground fighting across the country dwindled and only light skirmishes were reported.

U.S. planes Monday had their busiest day over North Vietnam in weeks, flying 99 bombing missions or 300 to 350 individual strikes. This was still well below the average of 150 missions flown daily before the monsoon storms moved north.

In one of the missions two all-weather Navy Intruders from the carrier Kitty Hawk struck only five miles from Haiphong, North Vietnam's main port. The jet bombers made radar precision runs on a missile assembly installation, and one of the pilots said the explosions "looked like flashbulbs in the night."

The B52 raid hammered at a Viet Cong base camp and stor-

Hoffa Maps Plan To Stay Out Of Jail

Teamster Head In Toughest Spot Of Troubled Career

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa is in the toughest spot of his troubled nine-year reign over the giant Teamsters Union after the Supreme Court rejected appeal of his jury-tampering conviction.

But "he took it philosophically" and immediately started laying plans to continue his battle to stay out of prison, a close associate said of Hoffa's reaction to Monday's court decision.

The Teamsters president was sentenced to eight years after his 1964 conviction in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Hoffa, re-elected last July to a five-year term as chief of the 1.7-million-member union, has no intention of giving up without a fight to the last, informed sources within the union said.

Hoffa's lawyers could stave off execution of the sentence for months, these sources said.

"He has three shots at it," said one source — "a rehearing (before the Supreme Court), a stay of execution and a writ of habeas corpus to show why he should not be detained."

Hoffa's attorneys hope to come up with new evidence that could upset the conviction, it was indicated.

However, neither Hoffa nor other union officials would comment officially.

Hoffa, first elected Teamsters president in 1957, successfully survived a long series of federal prosecutions until 1964 when he lost the jury-tampering case and was also convicted in Chicago and sentenced to five years for fraud.

It was also in 1957 that the Teamsters were kicked out of the AFL-CIO on corruption charges after Hoffa's predecessor, Dave Beck, was convicted of income tax evasion.

Many union leaders would like to invite the Teamsters back into the AFL-CIO to gain the added strength of the world's biggest union.

But George Meany, president of the 13.5-million- member AFL-CIO, has steadfastly refused to consider inviting the Teamsters back as long as Hoffa remains in control.

Proposal Broadens British Plan

Africans Urge Complete Oil Embargo On Rhodesia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Three African members of the U.N. Security Council today demanded a complete embargo on the shipment of oil to Rhodesia.

The proposal was one of a series of amendments offered by the Africans to a British resolution calling for mandatory economic sanctions in an effort to topple the white minority regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

The amendments, which would expand the scope of the British proposals, were submitted by Mali, Uganda and Nigeria as the 15-nation council assembled to resume its debate on the Rhodesian problem.

In addition to the oil embargo, the Africans proposed that coal and manufactured goods be added to the list of 12 products selected by Britain for a trade ban.

The African amendments also would have the council deplore the refusal of Britain to use force to overthrow the Smith regime and the support given the Rhodesian government by Portugal and South Africa.

The United States threw its weight behind the British resolution Monday and made no mention of an oil embargo on wider application of sanctions.

In an address before the council, Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg also opposed the demand for use of British force against Rhodesia often trumpeted by the Africans. Goldberg ruled out violent measures which might produce a showdown with South Africa Portugal and the other white regimes in southern Africa.

Maddox Lead Seen 4-To-1 For Governor

Georgia Assembly To Elect Leader Under Court Ruling

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A check of Georgia legislators, who will elect the state's next governor, gives Democrat Lester G. Maddox almost a 4-to-1 edge over Republican candidate Howard Callaway. But many lawmakers still were undecided.

The General Assembly, consisting of 259 lawmakers, has 229 Democrats — 46 out of 54 in the Senate and 183 out of 205 in the House. The legislature is expected to select the next governor Jan. 10, the day after the next legislative session begins.

The Associated Press sampling shows: Maddox 33, Callaway 9, undecided 33.

Among the undecided were 11 Negroes, and one commented he would not vote for either of the candidates. The legislators were asked what their decisions would be at an annual legislative institute at the University of Georgia in Athens, and by telephone.

Both Callaway and Maddox were at the meeting Monday seeking to convince legislators that each was the best man for the job.

But the two rivals gave different viewpoints on the outcome of the U.S. Supreme Court's 5-4 ruling allowing the legislature to choose the man they want to fill the governor's chair.

"I think it would be very tough on a man to be named governor if he did not win a majority of the votes by the people," Callaway said.

But Maddox, hailing the decision, said he was sure he would be Georgia's next governor because of legislative support.

Some legislators, dissatisfied with both candidates, reportedly have started a movement to block either one from claiming the governorship.

Their strategy is to refrain from voting when the legislature meets in joint session. The Georgia constitution requires the votes of a majority of members present at the session.

Lisbon Has Own Deer Story

LISBON — Police Sgt. Kenneth McKenzie early today reported the plot of a kiddies' Christmas story — something like "Three Reindeer Looking for a Sleigh."

One of the deer collided with a car at 12:30 a. m. at the intersection of Vine St. and E. Lincoln Way — two blocks east of the Courthouse.

They were on Vine, headed north, and reached the intersection just as Charles May of Lisbon R. D. 5 arrived, headed east in his 1962 station wagon.

He said he saw an "eight-to-10-point buck and two does." A doe put a dent in the crown of his left front fender and broke the radio antenna. May said she fell down, but jumped up and ran north into an alley east of the Lepper Library.

Cpl. Sam Smith of Highway Patrol Post 15, who had seen the three animals on Vine while driving east on Washington St., circled around to Lincoln Way and found May inspecting the damaged fender.

The final witness, Robert Dorrance of Chestnut St, said the animals ran up the hillside toward High St. — that's still north.

Lake-River Segment

$3.6 Million Cost Set For Highway

The State Highway Department at Columbus today received an apparent low bid of $3,698,935 for construction of the next area segment of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway, extending about four miles from Apples Corners to near West Point.

The bid was filed by the Carl M. Geupel Construction Co. of Worthington and Indianapolis.

It is nearly $1 million under the state's estimate of $4,685,400.

The offers were opened at 10 this morning in the central office at Columbus. The project will tie in with the present segment of the four - lane highway now under construction from Substation to Apples Corners.

A total of 3.2 miles of highway will be built on a new four-lane right-of-way with a 60-foot medial divider. An eight - tenth mile section of State Route 45 will be relocated to join an interchange with the new road.

Portions of existing Route 30 will be resurfaced as part of the project before it is abandoned by the state and turned over to the county.

The projects include three bridges — over existing Route 30 and the west fork of Little Beaver Creek, over Township Road 904 and over County Road 424.

The new project will be the fourth area segment of the lake - river road to be constructed. The first stretch is the so-called city Freeway. The second extends from the north city limits to Substation. The third is the stretch currently under construction from Substation to Apples Corners.

The Highway Department said three to four weeks may elapse before the official award of the contract as the result of the bid opening today. The prices first will be reviewed by the contract sales office.

However, there appeared little doubt that Geupel would receive the contract because its price is so far under the estimate.

Jury Returns Indictment In Spike Slaying

Suspect Charged In Murder; Likely To Get Sanity Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A sanity hearing evidently is next for the young itinerant charged with the bludgeon slaying of nationally prominent churchman-civil rights leader Dr. Robert W. Spike.

And if common pleas court concurs with the grand jury's opinion, the case of William R. Minor, 23, may never come to regular trial.

A Franklin County grand jury called into special session for the purpose by Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson returned indictments Monday charging Minor with first-degree murder and burglary.

The jury accompanied its charge with the suggestion Minor probably is insane at present and a directive to the court recommending a hearing be convened to determine whether he is sane.

Minor has spent several stretches in mental institutions, three in Columbus State Hospital.

Should he be declared insane —probably after examination at Lima State Hospital—it might be possible for him to be sent to an institution without any public hearing on the facts which led to his arrest and indictment.

Minor has been in custody since last week when he volun-

Probe Looms In Fatal Fire

Youngster Claimed In Beaver County

BEAVER — A Pennsylvania fire marshal's investigation loomed today in the death of an 18-month-old West Bridgewater child trapped in a burning trailer home late Monday afternoon.

Matthew Allen Mahovlic, son of Mrs. Karen Mahovlic, died in the flames which swept through the trailer about 5:30 p. m. at the McFadden Trailer Court.

Conflicting details of the mishap were reported by investigating officials and Beaver County Coroner Dr. John Colavincenzo said whether or not the child was alone is to be determined by the fire marshal's probe.

Firemen yesterday indicated the flames may have spread from an explosion of an oil heating stove while two brothers — Mark Anthony and Michael Angelo — were playing outside and the mother was visiting a neighbor.

Commissioners Shift Site Of School For Retarded

LISBON — The Robert Bycroft School for Retarded Children will be constructed on the Columbiana County Home farm about three miles west of Lisbon.

County commissioners changed the location Monday.

They voted 2 to 1 to discard the previously - approved site—the former Roger Kyes farm on Route 7 near Rogers — for the home location.

The new site is on high land on the south side of Route 172, opposite the Perry Tritten potato farm.

Commissioner James W. Boyd of East Liverpool, who had opposed the Rogers site, made the motion to rescind the Sept. 26 action approving it and was supported by Commissioner Charles Gause of Guilford Lake, who took office Nov. 22.

Boyd and Gause approved the rescission and Boyd's motion to use County Home land. Commissioner R. Max Gard of Lisbon opposed both motions.

Boyd said he opposed the Rogers site because Rogers Hill on Route 7 is a traffic hazard, the school would be incompatible with a proposed honor farm for juvenile boys across the highway, it is not centrally located and the water supply is doubtful. The farm was donated to the county several years ago by Roger M. Kyes, a native of East Palestine and a General Motors executive.

County voters passed a one-mill levy in November 1965 to build the school and a workshop for retarded persons too old for school. The tax brought in $241,365, which commissioners appropriated last week. The federal government will pay $103,999 toward the construction. Robert Beatty of East Liverpool is the architect.

Commissioners yesterday vacated Johnson Ave. between Maryland Ave. and Ohio Blvd. in Salem Heights at the request of abutting land owners. The street has not been used for more than 21 years. No one attended the scheduled public hearing in the commissioners' office.

At the request of Donald P. Hepp, county welfare director, commissioners approved the appointment of George E. Dotson of Grant St., Lisbon, and Ella Mae Mitchell of Lisbon R. D. 1 as child welfare aides (retarded school bus drivers) at

Pennsylvania Gunman Gets $70 At Motel

BEAVER — District police were on the alert this morning for a dark-haired man, about 33, who staged an armed robbery at Conley's Motel in Homewood near the Pennsylvania Turnpike exit about 4:45 a.m. today.

Kenneth Christley of Beaver Falls, clerk at the motel, said the man, about 5 foot 10 of medium build and wearing dark-rimmed glasses, obtained about $70 from the cash register.

The man took the clerk in a car to College Hill in Beaver Falls, then released him, giving him a $1.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said the man was wearing a multi-colored print shirt, dark pants, long green or black coat and drove a 1966 or 1967 light green Cadillac.

Christley said the man was nervous and had apparently been drinking. He had a number of small round burns in his right thumb.

Viet Cong Spurn Pope Plea To Extend Truce

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials believe the Viet Cong are unwilling to accept Pope Paul's appeal to extend the Christmas truce in the war in Vietnam into a peace-seeking cease-fire.

"We regret that the Viet Cong have apparently rejected the sincere appeal of Pope Paul in the cause of peace," the department said in a statement issued Monday. "The Viet Cong response obviously lessens very greatly the prospects for any positive results."

The department's conclusions were drawn after a Viet Cong broadcast Saturday accused the United States of "Machiavellian and perfidious" schemes in pressing "the sinful aggression" in Vietnam.

$9,000 Salary Proposed For Project Coordinator

The City Planning Commission, meeting Monday night at City Hall, agreed to suggest to Council a $9,000 annual salary for the proposed new post of administrative project coordinator.

The suggestion probably will be forwarded to Council in time for its next regular meeting Monday night. It also calls for a $5,000 allocation for part-time secretarial hire, travel expenses and miscellaneous items.

Don Eckert, chairman of the Planning Commission, explained to Council Dec. 5 the need for a full-time professional coordinator to help keep the city abreast of federal projects expected to be launched here as more and more phases of the city's "master plan" are implemented.

A low-rent housing program of 260 units for the elderly and low income families is one of the first indirect outgrowths of the city's quest for federal aid projects. It is being administered by the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Five of the seven members of Council indicated to Eckert they favored creation of the post, although no definite salary figure was mentioned. Eckert pointed out to the Planning Commission last night the city could expect to recover a large part of the salary outlay in the form of credit from the federal government toward project costs.

The commission also discussed the need for office space for its files and records, but no final decision has been reached. Mayor George E. Willshaw agreed to check on a room on the second floor of City Hall that formerly housed the engineer's office. It now is being used by an assistant engineer, but the mayor said he believes the space might be partitioned to provide two smaller offices.

Eckert also announced that a proposed city zoning ordinance now is being printed and will be ready for final study by the commission some time this

Hancock Case Faces State Court's Review

The West Virginia Supreme Court at Charleston says it will review a Hancock County Circuit Court decision which awarded a $9,500 judgment to a steel mill worker in his case against the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The lower court ruled in favor of Henry R. Sommerville of West Liberty, who won the directed verdict on the basis of an October 1959 accident in which he sustained injuries while eating lunch in a shack at the Weirton Steel Co. mill.

Sommerville was than employed by Weirton Steel and said a malfunction of a switch caused a freight car to hit the wooden fire shanty where he was eating lunch.

The state Supreme Court granted the review Monday.

Georgia Assembly To Elect Leader Under Court Ruling

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A check of Georgia legislators, who will elect the state's next governor, gives Democrat Lester G. Maddox almost a 4-to-1 edge over Republican candidate Howard Callaway. But many lawmakers still were undecided.

The General Assembly, consisting of 259 lawmakers, has 229 Democrats — 46 out of 54 in the Senate and 183 out of 205 in the House. The legislature is expected to select the next governor Jan. 10, the day after the next legislative session begins.

And if common pleas court concurs with the grand jury's opinion, the case of William R. Minor, 23, may never come to regular trial.

A Franklin County grand jury called into special session for the purpose by Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson returned indictments Monday charging Minor with first-degree murder and burglary.

The jury accompanied its charge with the suggestion Minor probably is insane at present and a directive to the court recommending a hearing be convened to determine whether he is sane.

Minor has spent several stretches in mental institutions, three in Columbus State Hospital.

Should he be declared insane —probably after examination at Lima State Hospital—it might be possible for him to be sent to an institution without any public hearing on the facts which led to his arrest and indictment.

Minor has been in custody since last week when he volun-

Youngster Claimed In Beaver County

BEAVER — A Pennsylvania fire marshal's investigation loomed today in the death of an 18-month-old West Bridgewater child trapped in a burning trailer home late Monday afternoon.

Matthew Allen Mahovlic, son of Mrs. Karen Mahovlic, died in the flames which swept through the trailer about 5:30 p. m. at the McFadden Trailer Court.

Conflicting details of the mishap were reported by investigating officials and Beaver County Coroner Dr. John Colavincenzo said whether or not the child was alone is to be determined by the fire marshal's probe.

Firemen yesterday indicated the flames may have spread from an explosion of an oil heating stove while two brothers — Mark Anthony and Michael Angelo — were playing outside and the mother was visiting a neighbor.

$9,000 Salary Proposed For Project Coordinator

The City Planning Commission, meeting Monday night at City Hall, agreed to suggest to Council a $9,000 annual salary for the proposed new post of administrative project coordinator.

The suggestion probably will be forwarded to Council in time for its next regular meeting Monday night. It also calls for a $5,000 allocation for part-time secretarial hire, travel expenses and miscellaneous items.

Don Eckert, chairman of the Planning Commission, explained to Council Dec. 5 the need for a full-time professional coordinator to help keep the city abreast of federal projects expected to be launched here as more and more phases of the city's "master plan" are implemented.

A low-rent housing program of 260 units for the elderly and low income families is one of the first indirect outgrowths of the city's quest for federal aid projects. It is being administered by the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Five of the seven members of Council indicated to Eckert they favored creation of the post, although no definite salary figure was mentioned. Eckert pointed out to the Planning Commission last night the city could expect to recover a large part of the salary outlay in the form of credit from the federal government toward project costs.

The commission also discussed the need for office space for its files and records, but no final decision has been reached. Mayor George E. Willshaw agreed to check on a room on the second floor of City Hall that formerly housed the engineer's office. It now is being used by an assistant engineer, but the mayor said he believes the space might be partitioned to provide two smaller offices.

Eckert also announced that a proposed city zoning ordinance now is being printed and will be ready for final study by the commission some time this

Hancock Case Faces State Court's Review

The West Virginia Supreme Court at Charleston says it will review a Hancock County Circuit Court decision which awarded a $9,500 judgment to a steel mill worker in his case against the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The lower court ruled in favor of Henry R. Sommerville of West Liberty, who won the directed verdict on the basis of an October 1959 accident in which he sustained injuries while eating lunch in a shack at the Weirton Steel Co. mill.

Sommerville was than employed by Weirton Steel and said a malfunction of a switch caused a freight car to hit the wooden fire shanty where he was eating lunch.

The state Supreme Court granted the review Monday.

Viet Cong Spurn Pope Plea To Extend Truce

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials believe the Viet Cong are unwilling to accept Pope Paul's appeal to extend the Christmas truce in the war in Vietnam into a peace-seeking cease-fire.

"We regret that the Viet Cong have apparently rejected the sincere appeal of Pope Paul in the cause of peace," the department said in a statement issued Monday. "The Viet Cong response obviously lessens very greatly the prospects for any positive results."

The department's conclusions were drawn after a Viet Cong broadcast Saturday accused the United States of "Machiavellian and perfidious" schemes in pressing "the sinful aggression" in Vietnam.

NATO Taking New Shape

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization does still exist despite French opposition and its future course will be plotted when foreign ministers of NATO nations open a two-day conference in Paris Thursday.

Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) will move to Casteau, Belgium early next year. NATO's political headquarters will move at about the same time, probably to the Namur Tower, a 25-story office building now in construction in Brussels, 30 miles from Casteau.

Even France, which is rapidly pulling out of the NATO military structure but which appears to want to continue to have a voice in the alliance, agree to the move of the political HQ, after an ultimatum that the NATO troops must leave French soil by next April 1.

The deadline, it is generally agreed here, will be met. Not every American soldier nor every rifle will be out of the country, but all major installations will have been moved.

BUT THE FRENCH intransigence only encourages Britain and the United States to remove troops from Europe—largly to reduce outlays abroad and relieve chronic balance of payments troubles. Britain is reported to have contemplated reducing its army on the Rhine—now at an already spindly level of 51,000 troops—by as much as a third.

The United States Seventh Army and other troops in Germany number about 220,000 men. Until recently we had 70,000 military personnel in France.

West Germany helps defray the expense of keeping American troops on her soil by buying weapons in this country at the rate of $650 million a year. We now say the cost is more than $700 million. The Germans are reluctant to renew even the current agreement, which expires next June.

Three-way talks among Britain, West Germany, and the United States on costs of maintaining troops in Germany will be the subject of one report at the NATO ministerial meeting. Meanwhile, Manlio Brosio, NATO Secretary General, has warned against underassessment of the Soviet threat and premature reduction of forces in Europe. "We should not allow ourselves to lower our guard," Brosio said on Nov. 16. "This is not the moment."

MILITARILY, THE future of NATO is a dilemma. We could not know what the Soviet reaction to a reduction in force in NATO would be until we started reducing.

Maj. Gen. Max S. Johnson has pointed out the French withdrawal has "drastically reduced the depth of NATO's area for maneuver in case of an attack from the East."

Politically, the story at Paris may be quite different. A report to be submitted to the foreign ministers says in effect that Eastern European nations, against whose threat of aggression NATO was designed, could well be more gainfully approached through trade and cultural exchanges. After more than 17 years of existence, less than three years short of its statutory life—NATO could change from a shield to a bridge.

Breakthrough?

Air pollution has been a thorn in the side of the Ohio Valley for years.

It has been the subject of considerable discussion, but not enough doing. Some corrective steps have been taken, but much remains to be done.

The newly-organized Ohio-West Virginia Industry Committee On Air Pollution Abatement could be the agency that will trigger the program necessary for badly-needed reforms. An imposing group of major industrial concerns are joining forces in this latest concentrated effort to meet the challenge all the way to Huntington, W Va.

No one should be more aware of the need for action than F. E. Tucker of the National Steel Corp.'s Weirton Steel Division.

Details of the anti-pollution program will be announced Dec. 20 during a series of press conferences. We hope they hit hard at the problem.

Formation of the new anti-pollution organization could signify the major breakthrough that is imperative. Smoke belching from industrial stacks is a healthy sign in an economic sense, but is the exact opposite in a physical sense.

Time To Take A Look

Most insurance companies have put into effect an increase in Ohio automobile insurance rates that will average 13.5 per cent for liability and 11.5 per cent for comprehensive and collision on passenger cars.

We have no way of knowing whether the increases are justified or not. That is a responsibility of the State Department of Insurance.

It appears, however, that Supt. William Morris of the insurance department is not about to make any investigation to determine whether the new rates are fair or excessive.

In the absence of any action on the part of the state, the Ohio AFL-CIO is petitioning for a public hearing on the increases, which is its right under Ohio law.

There is no doubting the fact that claims against auto insurance companies have been steadily mounting year by year. One need only look at automobile accident statistics to confirm that.

The cost of repairing the modern automobile has skyrocketed. Juries have been munificently generous with personal injury awards. In every conceivable way, the drain on insurance treasuries has been inflationary.

The increases may be completely legitimate, but we feel the state has an obligation to find out for itself.

Mr. Morris has said his department lacks the staff and facilities to study company books. If this is true, the staff should be expanded. What other reason is there for existence of the State Department of Insurance?

Only through a public hearing and only on the basis of facts can the state determine whether the recent increases should be permitted to stand, be modified or set aside.

It's That Time Of Year!

Why Are We There?

By Art Buchwald

BERKELEY, Calif

If a reporter can't cover the war in Vietnam he can do the next best thing and cover the war on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley.

Art Buchwald

As my helicopter circled the scarred Zone D area where a major battle had taken place last week between the bearded insurgent guerrilla forces of Mario Savio and the university special forces of Chancellor Rogers Heyns, I knew I had two questions I wanted answered. One was "Should the United States pull out of Berkeley?" and the two was "Should the Americans be there in the first place?"

Until you've been to Berkely it's hard to understand the enormous problems that we are confronted with out there. Although the administration still holds on to some of the major buildings, the sidewalks, the union and most of the steps are controlled by the students. And non-students infiltration is becoming so serious that some authorities are talking about planting mines in the parking lot adjacent to the school.

IF YOU TALK to the university people stationed in Sproul Hall you get the impression that the administration is winning the war.

"It's true," a spokesman said, "that our pacification program is not working as well as we would hope it to, and many of the students and instructors in the outlying colleges are afraid to go out at night. But we have more students in classes now than we did in 1964. And the insurgents know they can't drive us out."

But it is only when you go out into the field that you get a true picture of what is going on in Berkeley. I spoke to a grizzled veteran of the first free speech movement brigade who was dug in behind a park bench on the outer skirts of the campus.

He said, "You ask why are we fighting? We are fighting for freedom for students everywhere. We are fighting for our mothers and fathers and the girl next door so they can use four-letter words and smoke pot and take trips with LSD and have meaningful love experience without fear and retibution. On these points there is no room for negotiation. The administration has to get out and leave the Cal students to run their own affairs."

"Does that mean the professors, too?"

"It means every foreign element. They have been bombing us with tests and strafing us with lectures and threating us with expulsion. But for every atrocity they commit we have burned down a draft card and will continue to do so until our cause is won."

HE GAVE ME a safe conduct pass to visit the 3rd Psychedelic Division which was holed up in an apartment right off the campus. The commander offered me a cube of sugar and apologized because he didn't have any tea to go with it.

"What do you miss most out here?" I asked him.

"The Los Angeles Dodgers, Debbie Reynolds and mom's apple pie. But somebody's got to fight the fuzz and I would rather it be me than my kid brother."

I toured the northern part of the campus where I found elements of the 65th Sexual Freedom Battalion sacked out next to their Hondas. A weary 19-year-old kid said, "There will never be peace at Berkeley until they permit our coeds to wear topless cheerleader uniforms at the football stadium."

I finally found an atheist in a foxhole—six to be exact. One of them said, "If there was a God he'd be on our side.

As to whether the United States should be in Berkely or not, I came away with the impression it was a mistake for us to be involved there in the first place, but now that we're committed we might as well stay, at least until mid-term exams.

Court Leaves Imprint

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The evolution of the Supreme Court — its willingness to plunge into the various thickets of American existence — has been a slow process.

From the beginning the court had the power to make decisions, and often did, broad enough to affect all American life, although some of them at the time may have seemed too remote to give that impression.

But how deeply the court got into the everyday scene with its multitude of problems, including very human ones, depended on the members of the court at any one period, their philosophy about the role of the court, their courage, timidity, conservatism, liberalism, perhaps intellectual vigor, and the mood of the times.

THE PRESENT court is the most activist in history, leaving its imprint in all directions. Its willingness to move in on civil rights, school prayers or legislative reapportionment are just the spectacular examples.

It has shown an equal readiness to tackle a wide range of dilemmas — personal, political, or economic, although all of them have a constitutional question within them — and its actions Monday were a good example.

It unsnarled Georgia's recent election dispute — should Democrat Lester G. Maddox or Republican Howard Callaway be governor? — by ruling the state legislature can decide.

This was probably the Supreme Court doing the deciding since the Georgia legislature which meets Jan. 9 is overwhelmingly Democratic. A minority of the court thought there should be a run-off election.

Then the court dipped into the very human problem of people in love and people's rights.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Loving — he is white, she is part Indian, part Negro — went to live in Virginia where they were arrested, convicted and sentenced to a year in jail under the state law forbidding the marriage of white and "colored" persons. They fought the conviction.

They argued on a number of grounds: that the Virginia law violates their constitutional guarantee to equal protection, to privacy, to choose a marriage partner, and other civil rights. The Supreme Court agreed to consider their case.

It should have a wide effect, besides a human one, since there are 16 states, in addition to Virginia, which have similar laws.

THEN THE court closed doors and seemed to open some.

It flattened Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa as he has never been flattened before by upholding his 1964 jury-tampering conviction.

On top of this the court gave police a bit of a go-ahead for tricks and snooping, electronic and otherwise.

It upheld the jury-tampering conviction of Z. T. Osborn Jr., one of Hoffa's lawyers, convicted of trying to bribe a jury member with $10,000 to free his boss.

Osborn claimed he was snared by an electronic "snooper," arguing that the supposed go-between with the juror had a hidden tape-recorder when he talked to Osborn. The go-between was a detective.

The court approved, 8 to 1, a government agent's posing as a potential customer to gain entry, without a search warrant, to obtain evidence for conviction of a narcotics peddler, Duke Lewis of Boston.

Sneak Attack?

By David Lawrence

Another Pearl Harbor Speculated

Yes, there could be another Pearl Harbor. It would be much worse next time for it's estimated that 130 million Americans would be killed by a suprise nuclear attack. This is why there is so much discussion now in military circles about what it called the "Nik-X" system of anti-missile missiles. This, with certain other defensive meaures, would be expected to cut the deaths to something like 60 million, and thereby save 70 million lives.

There are as yet no anti-missile defenses in the United States, and reliance is being placed entirely on the plan to use an avalanche of missiles to retaliate with such intensity that 100 million people in the enemy country could be killed and the economy destroyed.

The argument continues, however, as to whether the deterrent is adequate. The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff are on record unanimously in favor of "Nike-X." Without mentioning this phase of the problem, Secretary of Defense McNamara—after a long discussion with President Johnson — issued to the press a memorandum designed to allay any public apprehension as to the effectiveness of America's missile strength.

IT'S EVIDENT the administration felt it necessary to take public note of reports that the Soviets are rapidly increasing their missile strength. These reports began to filter out about three weeks ago from Western Europe and the Pentagon. They indicated that America's lead of 4 to 1 in intercontinental balistic missiles was rapidly diminishing and that perhaps by 1970 the Soviet Union would catch up with the United States. Also, the Russians were reported deploying already an anti-missile system of their own around Moscow, Leningrad and other dities.

In his statement this week, Secretary McNamara conceded that U.S. intelligence agencies had underestimated the number of intercontinental ballistic missiles that the Soviets would have in place by the middle of 1968 and in subsequent years but insisted that this country could still deal a crushing counterblow to any attacking enemy. The United States has 1,600 ICBM's, land-based and sea-based, while the Soviet Union is supposed to have only 400. The latter, however, are expected to start in 1967 putting missiles in place at the rate of 200 to 400 a year.

THE BIG QUESTION is whether the Russians will catch up with us. The possibility of a sneak attack is conceded, though the probability is very much discounted. Even if one country could inflict incredible damage on the other, the chances of an equally damaging retaliation are still considered to be a powerful deterrent. Secretary McNamara said in his memorandum the other day:

"Our objectives for our strategic nuclear forces are unchanged, (1) to deter a deliberate nuclear attack upon the United States and its allies by maintaining a clear and convincing capability to inflict unacceptable damage on an attacker, even if that attacker were to strike first, and (2), to limit damage to our population and industry if such a war should occur. . . .

"We have said repeatedly in the past that the United States has three to four times as many intercontinental ballistic missiles as the Soviet Union. That still is true today."

MR. McNAMARA said that, even if the new intelligence estimate of Soviet buildup by mid-1968 proves accurate, the United States "will continue to have a substantial quantitative and qualitative superiority over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles at that time."

The great unanswered question is whether an irresponsible government in Moscow or Peking will take all this into account. The irresponsible elements in Tokyo certainly didn't think things through when they ordered the attack on the United States on Dec. 7, 1941. It's necessary, therefore, to make sure that the people of every large country possessing nuclear weapons are kept fully informed of the dangers of a nuclear war, so they may exercise a restraining hand and prevent any more Pearl Harbors.

NATO Taking New Shape

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization does still exist despite French opposition and its future course will be plotted when foreign ministers of NATO nations open a two-day conference in Paris Thursday.

Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) will move to Casteau, Belgium early next year. NATO's political headquarters will move at about the same time, probably to the Namur Tower, a 25-story office building now in construction in Brussels, 30 miles from Casteau.

Even France, which is rapidly pulling out of the NATO military structure but which appears to want to continue to have a voice in the alliance, agree to the move of the political HQ, after an ultimatum that the NATO troops must leave French soil by next April 1.

The deadline, it is generally agreed here, will be met. Not every American soldier nor every rifle will be out of the country, but all major installations will have been moved.

BUT THE FRENCH intransigence only encourages Britain and the United States to remove troops from Europe—largly to reduce outlays abroad and relieve chronic balance of payments troubles. Britain is reported to have contemplated reducing its army on the Rhine—now at an already spindly level of 51,000 troops—by as much as a third.

The United States Seventh Army and other troops in Germany number about 220,000 men. Until recently we had 70,000 military personnel in France.

West Germany helps defray the expense of keeping American troops on her soil by buying weapons in this country at the rate of $650 million a year. We now say the cost is more than $700 million. The Germans are reluctant to renew even the current agreement, which expires next June.

Three-way talks among Britain, West Germany, and the United States on costs of maintaining troops in Germany will be the subject of one report at the NATO ministerial meeting. Meanwhile, Manlio Brosio, NATO Secretary General, has warned against underassessment of the Soviet threat and premature reduction of forces in Europe. "We should not allow ourselves to lower our guard," Brosio said on Nov. 16. "This is not the moment."

MILITARILY, THE future of NATO is a dilemma. We could not know what the Soviet reaction to a reduction in force in NATO would be until we started reducing.

Maj. Gen. Max S. Johnson has pointed out the French withdrawal has "drastically reduced the depth of NATO's area for maneuver in case of an attack from the East."

Politically, the story at Paris may be quite different. A report to be submitted to the foreign ministers says in effect that Eastern European nations, against whose threat of aggression NATO was designed, could well be more gainfully approached through trade and cultural exchanges. After more than 17 years of existence, less than three years short of its statutory life—NATO could change from a shield to a bridge.

Breakthrough?

Air pollution has been a thorn in the side of the Ohio Valley for years.

It has been the subject of considerable discussion, but not enough doing. Some corrective steps have been taken, but much remains to be done.

The newly-organized Ohio-West Virginia Industry Committee On Air Pollution Abatement could be the agency that will trigger the program necessary for badly-needed reforms. An imposing group of major industrial concerns are joining forces in this latest concentrated effort to meet the challenge all the way to Huntington, W.Va.

No one should be more aware of the need for action than F. E. Tucker of the National Steel Corp.'s Weirton Steel Division.

Details of the anti-pollution program will be announced Dec. 20 during a series of press conferences. We hope they hit hard at the problem.

Formation of the new anti-pollution organization could signify the major breakthrough that is imperative. Smoke belching from industrial stacks is a healthy sign in an economic sense, but is the exact opposite in a physical sense.

Time To Take A Look

Most insurance companies have put into effect an increase in Ohio automobile insurance rates that will average 13.5 per cent for liability and 11.5 per cent for comprehensive and collision on passenger cars.

We have no way of knowing whether the increases are justified or not. That is a responsibility of the State Department of Insurance.

It appears, however, that Supt. William Morris of the insurance department is not about to make any investigation to determine whether the new rates are fair or excessive.

In the absence of any action on the part of the state, the Ohio AFL-CIO is petitioning for a public hearing on the increases, which is its right under Ohio law.

There is no doubting the fact that claims against auto insurance companies have been steadily mounting year by year. One need only look at automobile accident statistics to confirm that.

The cost of repairing the modern automobile has skyrocketed. Juries have been munificently generous with personal injury awards. In every conceivable way, the drain on insurance treasuries has been inflationary.

The increases may be completely legitimate, but we feel the state has an obligation to find out for itself.

Mr. Morris has said his department lacks the staff and facilities to study company books. If this is true, the staff should be expanded. What other reason is there for existence of the State Department of Insurance?

Only through a public hearing and only on the basis of facts can the state determine whether the recent increases should be permitted to stand, be modified or set aside.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

In this gay holiday period, with a happy Thanksgiving behind us and the Christmas season to be jolly just around the corner, I have decided there are a lot of things I am not going to worry about until after the first of the year.

The list of my current non-worries includes: whether there is any such thing as Extra Sensory Perception, the rising crime rate, traffic accidents;

Outrages committed by hunters, a decline in the quality of shoelaces, the Manila Declaration on the Asian war, reaching the moon, status of the Broadway theater;

Merits of the Warren Commission report on President Kennedy's assassination, flying saucers, life on Mars, peeling paint on the house;

High interest rates, survival of the British pound, the next Republican presidential nominee, the next Democratic presidential nominee, leaves on the lawn, whooping cranes, Hubert Humphrey and Bobby Kennedy;

De Gaulle, politics in Germany, politics in Canada, politics in South Viet Nam, politics generally anyplace, Latin America, the Supreme Court, the international balance of trade;

Improving my bridge game, safe automobiles, nuclear proliferation, world government, offshore oil, depletion allowances on taxes, Ghana, Alaskan art, non-objective art, any art;

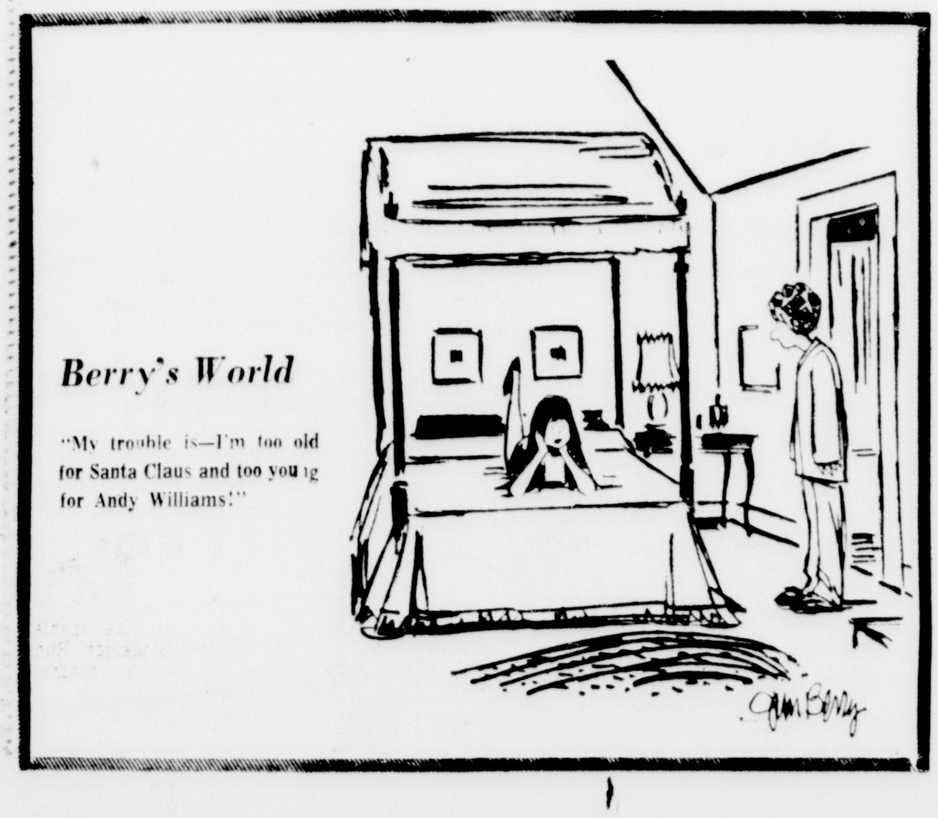

The decline of the novel, the death of God, Bishop Pike, Mayor Lindsay, French cooking, picketing a supermarket, elm tree disease, the Beatles, TV wasteland, President Johnson vs. the new Congress;

A vacation abroad, writing my congressman, fishing treaty with Russia, saving the Grand Canyon, airplanes for India, watchdogging the Central Intelligence Agency, new constitutional amendments;

The plight of professional baseball, criticism of architecture, Somerset Maugham, Truman Capote, Tennessee Williams, calories, British royalty, Argentine revolutions, the Falkland Islands, Frank Sinatra;

Deer hunting, sunburn, pruning shrubs, skiing, criticism of American operas, what Gov. Rockefeller said to Gov. Romney, the supersonic giant airliner, the Van Allen Radiation Belt, sun spots, cleaning the "e" key on my typewriter, meeting spies, and which brand of golf ball gives me the longest drive.

Faithfully yours,

It's That Time Of Year!

Why Are We There?

By Art Buchwald

BERKELEY, Calif.

If a reporter can't cover the war in Vietnam he can do the next best thing and cover the war on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley.

Art Buchwald

As my helicopter circled the scarred Zone D area where a major battle had taken place last week between the bearded insurgent guerrilla forces of Mario Savio and the university special forces of Chancellor Rogers Heyns, I knew I had two questions I wanted answered. One was "Should the United States pull out of Berkeley?" and the two was "Should the Americans be there in the first place?"

Until you've been to Berkely it's hard to understand the enormous problems that we are confronted with out there. Although the administration still holds on to some of the major buildings, the sidewalks, the union and most of the steps are controlled by the students. And non-students infiltration is becoming so serious that some authorities are talking about planting mines in the parking lot adjacent to the school.

IF YOU TALK to the university people stationed in Sproul Hall you get the impression that the administration is winning the war.

"It's true," a spokesman said, "that our pacification program is not working as well as we would hope it to, and many of the students and instructors in the outlying colleges are afraid to go out at night. But we have more students in classes now than we did in 1964. And the insurgents know they can't drive us out."

But it is only when you go out into the field that you get a true picture of what is going on in Berkeley. I spoke to a grizzled veteran of the first free speech movement brigade who was dug in behind a park bench on the outer skirts of the campus.

He said, "You ask why are we fighting? We are fighting for freedom for students everywhere. We are fighting for our mothers and fathers and the girl next door so they can use four-letter words and smoke pot and take trips with LSD and have meaningful love experience without fear and retibution. On these points there is no room for negotiation. The administration has to get out and leave the Cal students to run their own affairs."

"Does that mean the professors, too?"

"It means every foreign element. They have been bombing us with tests and strafing us with lectures and threating us with expulsion. But for every atrocity they commit we have burned down a draft card and will continue to do so until our cause is won."

HE GAVE ME a safe conduct pass to visit the 3rd Psychedelic Division which was holed up in an apartment right off the campus. The commander offered me a cube of sugar and apologized because he didn't have any tea to go with it.

"What do you miss most out here?" I asked him.

"The Los Angeles Dodgers, Debbie Reynolds and mom's apple pie. But somebody's got to fight the fuzz and I would rather it be me than my kid brother."

I toured the northern part of the campus where I found elements of the 65th Sexual Freedom Battalion sacked out next to their Hondas. A weary 19-year-old kid said, "There will never be peace at Berkeley until they permit our coeds to wear topless cheerleader uniforms at the football stadium."

I finally found an atheist in a foxhole—six to be exact. One of them said, "If there was a God he'd be on our side.

As to whether the United States should be in Berkely or not, I came away with the impression it was a mistake for us to be involved there in the first place, but now that we're committed we might as well stay, at least until mid-term exams.

Court Leaves Imprint

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The evolution of the Supreme Court — its willingness to plunge into the various thickets of American existence — has been a slow process.

From the beginning the court had the power to make decisions, and often did, broad enough to affect all American life, although some of them at the time may have seemed too remote to give that impression.

But how deeply the court got into the everyday scene with its multitude of problems, including very human ones, depended on the members of the court at any one period, their philosophy about the role of the court, their courage, timidity, conservatism, liberalism, perhaps intellectual vigor, and the mood of the times.

THE PRESENT court is the most activist in history, leaving its imprint in all directions. Its willingness to move in on civil rights, school prayers or legislative reapportionment are just the spectacular examples.

It has shown an equal readiness to tackle a wide range of dilemmas — personal, political, or economic, although all of them have a constitutional question within them — and its actions Monday were a good example.

It unsnarled Georgia's recent election dispute — should Democrat Lester G. Maddox or Republican Howard Callaway be governor? — by ruling the state legislature can decide.

This was probably the Supreme Court doing the deciding since the Georgia legislature which meets Jan. 9 is overwhelmingly Democratic. A minority of the court thought there should be a run-off election.

Then the court dipped into the very human problem of people in love and people's rights.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Loving — he is white, she is part Indian, part Negro — went to live in Virginia where they were arrested, convicted and sentenced to a year in jail under the state law forbidding the marriage of white and "colored" persons. They fought the conviction.

They argued on a number of grounds: that the Virginia law violates their constitutional guarantee to equal protection, to privacy, to choose a marriage partner, and other civil rights. The Supreme Court agreed to consider their case.

It should have a wide effect, besides a human one, since there are 16 states, in addition to Virginia, which have similar laws.

THEN THE court closed doors and seemed to open some.

It flattened Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa as he has never been flattened before by upholding his 1964 jury-tampering conviction.

On top of this the court gave police a bit of a go-ahead for tricks and snooping, electronic and otherwise.

It upheld the jury-tampering conviction of Z. T. Osborn Jr., one of Hoffa's lawyers, convicted of trying to bribe a jury member with $10,000 to free his boss.

Osborn claimed he was snared by an electronic "snooper," arguing that the supposed go-between with the juror had a hidden tape-recorder when he talked to Osborn. The go-between was a detective.

The court approved, 8 to 1, a government agent's posing as a potential customer to gain entry, without a search warrant, to obtain evidence for conviction of a narcotics peddler, Duke Lewis of Boston.

Sneak Attack?

By David Lawrence

Another Pearl Harbor Speculated

Yes, there could be another Pearl Harbor. It would be much worse next time for it's estimated that 130 million Americans would be killed by a suprise nuclear attack. This is why there is so much discussion now in military circles about what it called the "Nik-X" system of anti-missile missiles. This, with certain other defensive meaures, would be expected to cut the deaths to something like 60 million, and thereby save 70 million lives.

There are as yet no anti-missile defenses in the United States, and reliance is being placed entirely on the plan to use an avalanche of missiles to retaliate with such intensity that 100 million people in the enemy country could be killed and the economy destroyed.

The argument continues, however, as to whether the deterrent is adequate. The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff are on record unanimously in favor of "Nike-X." Without mentioning this phase of the problem, Secretary of Defense McNamara—after a long discussion with President Johnson — issued to the press a memorandum designed to allay any public apprehension as to the effectiveness of America's missile strength.

IT'S EVIDENT the administration felt it necessary to take public note of reports that the Soviets are rapidly increasing their missile strength. These reports began to filter out about three weeks ago from Western Europe and the Pentagon. They indicated that America's lead of 4 to 1 in intercontinental balistic missiles was rapidly diminishing and that perhaps by 1970 the Soviet Union would catch up with the United States. Also, the Russians were reported deploying already an anti-missile system of their own around Moscow, Leningrad and other cities.

In his statement this week, Secretary McNamara conceded that U.S. intelligence agencies had underestimated the number of intercontinental ballistic missiles that the Soviets would have in place by the middle of 1968 and in subsequent years but insisted that this country could still deal a crushing counterblow to any attacking enemy. The United States has 1,600 ICBM's, land-based and sea-based, while the Soviet Union is supposed to have only 400. The latter, however, are expected to start in 1967 putting missiles in place at the rate of 200 to 400 a year.

THE BIG QUESTION is whether the Russians will catch up with us. The possibility of a sneak attack is conceded, though the probability is very much discounted. Even if one country could inflict incredible damage on the other, the chances of an equally damaging retaliation are still considered to be a powerful deterrent. Secretary McNamara said in his memorandum the other day:

"Our objectives for our strategic nuclear forces are unchanged, (1) to deter a deliberate nuclear attack upon the United States and its allies by maintaining a clear and convincing capability to inflict unacceptable damage on an attacker, even if that attacker were to strike first, and (2), to limit damage to our population and industry if such a war should occur. . . .

"We have said repeatedly in the past that the United States has three to four times as many intercontinental ballistic missiles as the Soviet Union. That still is true today."

MR. McNAMARA said that, even if the new intelligence estimate of Soviet buildup by mid-1968 proves accurate, the United States "will continue to have a substantial quantitative and qualitative superiority over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles at that time."

The great unanswered question is whether an irresponsible government in Moscow or Peking will take all this into account. The irresponsible elements in Tokyo certainly didn't think things through when they ordered the attack on the United States on Dec. 7, 1941. It's necessary, therefore, to make sure that the people of every large country possessing nuclear weapons are kept fully informed of the dangers of a nuclear war, so they may exercise a restraining hand and prevent any more Pearl Harbors.

Local Youth, 20, Gets Fine Of $50 On Trespassing

An East Liverpool youth allegedly found inside the former Woomer Brothers Lumber Co. building on St. Clair Ave. Thursday night was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court after a breaking and entering charge was dismissed and a trespassing charge was substituted.

Larry Edward Bowers, 20, of Woodbine Ave. pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. He also was given a suspended 30-day County Jail term. The original affidavit accused him of breaking and entering with intent to steal. Bowers was represented by Bernard Fineman.

Police said Bowers and a juvenile were found in the building at 9:42 p. m. Thursday. The structure is used to store cars owned by Mike Turk, Inc., and furniture of the Star Furniture Co. at 616 Walnut St., officers said. The investigation involved Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice and Patrolmen David Mumaw, James Buckley, K. J. Montgomery, Samuel Hayes, Karl Samples and W. F. Copestick.

In a separate case this morning, Bowers was fined $15 and costs on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way when pulling onto a highway from a private driveway. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol Friday at 6:40 p. m. on Route 30 at Substation.

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, 78, former ambassador, is reported in satisfactory condition at New England Baptist hospital where he is being treated for a "generalized circulatory condition." He entered the hospital Dec. 5.

County Man Hurt In 2-Car Mishap

A 24-year-old Columbiana man and his wife were injured in a two-car collision on Route 14-A about a half-mile east of Washingtonville Monday night.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said cars operated by Charles Barber of Washington St., Columbiana, and Walter Berger, 77, of Salem R.D. 2 collided about 10:30.

Berger was headed east in a 1964 sedan and made a left turn in front of Barber's westbound 1951 coach, the patrol said.

Barber, his wife, Linda, 19, and Berger were taken to Salem City Hospital. The woman and Berger were treated for minor injuries and released. Barber was in "fairly good" condition today with head injuries.

Berger was cited for making an improper left turn.

5 More Nurses Quit Ohio TB Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Five more nurses, protesting low salaries, say they will leave the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital here effective Dec. 30.

The resignations, disclosed Monday, brought to 27 the number of nurses at the hospital who say they will quit at the end of the year.

The Ohio State Nurses Association, through Executive Secretary Dorothy Cornelius, immediately requested a meeting for today with Gov. James A. Rhodes.

A statehouse spokesman reported, however, that officials had been meeting in an effort to find a way to increase the salaries of nurses in Ohio's state-operated hospitals.

Chicago GI Recalls Bloody Battle

By PETER ARNETT

SUOI DA, South Vietnam (AP) — Pfc. Eugene Hicks, 20, punched and pulled at his machine gun that had jammed for the sixth time in as many minutes and wondered why, in the midst of the noises of the bloody battlefield, he wasn't scared.

"I was sort of elated I was shaping up so well, that my reaction to fire was so good," Hicks recalled, remembering back to Sunday morning when his 30-man platoon stumbled on a large Viet Cong force, engaged them, and took heavy casualties.

Hicks, from Chicago, Ill., didn't realize until he crawled across the battlefield afterward how bad it had been.

"I just thought the men were lying down there to keep out of the way of our own artillery that had been coming in pretty close and even spraying dirt across my back," Hicks said. "But then I saw the blood, the head wounds, the bodies all twisted. Those men weren't alive. Oh, it was Black Sunday."

Like others in the ill-fated Platoon from C Company, 1st Battalion, 16th Regiment, Hicks had been wounded before in Vietnam, the first time in the thigh with mortar fragments on his first day in the field.

"The first time I was in action, and hit, I was so scared. But this time, I don't know why, but I reacted good," Hicks said.

The machine-gunner's platoon, patrolling Indian file three miles north of this Special Forces camp in Communist War Zone C, spotted four or five uniformed Viet Cong 50 yards away bolting into the jungled edge of a clearing.

"The platoon sergeant shouted 'Open Fire!' and an avalanche of bullets came back at us. As many of us as could squeezed down behind a big log for cover. Then the sergeant sent me back to the rear because we started getting fire from there," Hicks said.

The enemy force proved to be at least a Viet Cong company eager for battle and vastly outnumbering the American group.

The forward artillery observer, 1st Lt. Alfred J. Carter Jr. of Scranton, Pa., tried to even the sides by calling in immediate artillery fire. He persevered even though a hand set was shot out of his hand and a radio blown up.

The battalion commander, Lt. Col. Rufus C. Lazzel of Springfield, Va., was overhead in minutes in his bubble-topped helicopter. He started correcting the fire, twisting and turning over the battlefield.

The fire fight on the ground lasted about 12 minutes. The Viet Cong surged toward the fallen tree behind which most of the U.S. platoon were hiding.

Covered by intense flanking machine-gun fire, 11 Viet Cong soldiers swarmed across the tree trunk. But there were enough Americans alive to kill every one of them.

When the assistant 1st Division commander, Brig. Gen. Bernard W. Rogers of Lawrence, Kan., touched down in his helicopter soon after, he found American bodies twisted over those of the Viet Cong.

Hicks kept fighting to keep his machine gun firing during the battle. His ammunition bearer was hit in the arm beside him and bullets whipped by, "but I guess I was lucky," he said.

The constant artillery pounding was driving the enemy main force away. In all 487 rounds were thrown into the little battlefield in the first 19 minutes.

A lull settled over the jungle, and Capt. Luther L. French of Monroe, La., responding to a frantic call for help, landed his helicopter in a clearing.

"It was a bloody sight," French recalled. "The wounded who were waving to me were covered with blood. There was still small-arms fire."

Hicks, dazed with the realization that most of his friends were dead, staggered to the helicopter, helped in three wounded, and sprawled in himself.

"I hated to do it, but in that heat and because of the trees around us, I had to leave Hicks behind," French said.

Hicks' eyes popped when Gen. Rogers stepped out of the next helicopter, his star glinting in the noonday sun.

The general's aide, 1st Lt. Christopher J. Needels of Accomac, Va., with automatic rifle at the ready, began helping the general to police up the battlefield.

A medic, his medical bag open, lay dead amid the bodies of five soldiers who had been wounded and were awaiting treatment.

By noon, the American dead and wounded had been lifted out by helicopter, the bodies of 26 Viet Cong counted, and about a dozen assorted weapons collected.

Then the area was left to the artillery. Heavy shells racked the area all afternoon and evening, seeking the fleeing Viet Cong force.

Hicks was the only member of the platoon at Suoi Da Monday. He had been assigned to another platoon.

"I'm nervous and shaken," he said, "but if my platoon goes out tomorrow, I'll go with them."

St. Clair Orders Parked Autos Off Township Roads

St. Clair Township police constables Monday night were directed by the township trustees to service notices on residents who leave cars parked on township roads.

Owners of such cars will have seven days in which to move the vehicles or have them towed away at the owners' expense.

Trustees explained parked cars hamper road crews using snow plows or doing other work on roads.

The Tom Adams backhoe service was hired to clean ditches on Stanton Ave., Hopple Dr. and Elmhurst Pl. Repairs to the Bell School Rd. were authorized.

Trustees approved purchase of a load of rock salt to be placed on stock-piled slag to prevent its freezing.

Recipts totaled $4,789 and expenses $4,059.

Next Monday's meeting was canceled and meetings were set for Dec. 23 and Dec. 30 because of the holidays.

Strike Hits Kaiser, Picketing Effective

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A wildcat strike hit Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp.'s plant in suburban Heath Monday and picketing was termed "100 per cent effective" in halting operations Monday night.

Employes reportedly walked out when nonunion men working for a contractor began doing some pipefitting and plumbing at Kaiser.

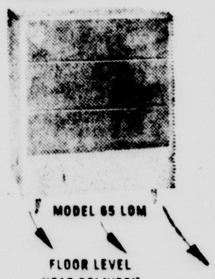

The factory, with aluminum wire as its chief product, has about 2,500 employes. The entire evening shift was reported not working following the noon walkout by the dayshift.

Both the United Steelworkers local representing most of the production force and the management termed the strike unauthorized.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party for firemen's children when Midland volunteer firemen met Monday night at the station.

Santa Claus will visit the home of each fireman starting at 6 p.m.

A party will follow at the station, with Angelo Tozzano and Bud Cook in charge of dinner preparations. Special guests will include Mayor Eli G. Corak and Councilman Joseph Hibbard, chairman of the fire committee.

Entertainment will include Fritz Grant and Ed Cilli singing original compositions, with guitar accompaniment.

Test Planned On City Police Captain's Job

The Municipal Civil Service Commission, meeting Monday night at City Hall, scheduled a promotional examination for Tuesday, Dec. 27, to name a new captain for the police force, succeeding the late Robert H. Pyle.

Only two of the three lieutenants will be eligible to compete. They are Charles E. (Bill) Tice and Kenneth H. Mooney. Robert B. Pyle, son of the late captain, has held the rank less than the year required to make him eligible.

The commission stipulated that applications for the test will be received until Wednesday, Dec. 21.

Notices of the examination will be posted in the police department today. Since it is a promotional exam within the department, the commission is not required to publish newspaper legal notices.

The man who scores the top grade automatically will win the captain's job. Ohio law provides that in a promotional exam only the name of the top contestant is referred to the appointing authority.

The promotion will open up a vacancy in the lieutenant's ranks. Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. now holds the top spot on the eligibility list.

Robert B. Pyle was named a lieutenant a few months ago from the top spot on the eligibility list. He succeeded Lt. William E. McDaniel, who resigned.

The way was cleared for the commission to schedule the examination after Council Saturday rejected an ordinance which would have abolished the captain's job and substituted a fourth lieutenancy.

The captain's post pays $485 monthly — $10 more than a lieutenant's job.

The commission last night conducted a test to make up a new eligibility list for patrolmen's jobs. Four of the six applicants appeared to compete and all scored passing grades.

Activities Set By Home Board

Farming procedures and future plans were discussed by William Hanlin, manager of the farm adjacent to the Hancock County Children's Home, during the meeting of the board of trustees Monday night at the home on Gas Valley Rd. near Oak Glen High School.

James Finley, chairman, expressed thanks to members of the board for their cooperation during the time he has served as a member of the county court.

Monthly bills were recommended for approval by the county court, which will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. at the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

The next regular meeting of the home board was set for Jan. 9.

Board Hires 2 At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — The East Palestine Board of Education Monday night appointed a teacher and hired a custodian.

Mrs. Alice Ann Webster of Patterson Heights, student teacher at Unity, was appointed fifth - grade instructor at the E. North Ave. School effective Jan. 31.

She will replace Mrs. Lynn Filippini of Negley Rd. who has resigned. Mrs. Webster will receive her degree from Youngstown University in January.

Walter Pickett of 597 E. Main St. was named custodian for the high school, replacing Roy VanFossen who has resigned effective Jan. 1.

During Wellsville Meeting

Board Officially Sets Up Pangle Hearing Saturday

The Wellsville Board of Education, meeting Monday night, officially set Saturday at 6 p.m. for the hearing for John Pangle and also arranged to convene at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, if necessary, in the case.

The suspended band director will be represented by Ben Berman, East Liverpool attorney, at the hearing, which will decide whether his contract to teach in the Wellsville schools should be terminated. City Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara will present the board of education's case.

CHARLES GLASS took the oath of office as a new board members from clerk-treasurer Raymond Rolley last night. Glass was appointed to the post last week by Probate Court Judge Louis Tobin to replace Dan Mason, resigned.

In other action, Supt. Lowell Myers explained the computation used by the state in determining Wellsville's share of educational funds.

Myers also discussed a meeting he attended at Columbus when State Supt. Martin Essex outlined a plan to create a five-unit classroom comprised of 150 students, an executive teacher, one professional teacher, two provisional teachers, a teaching intern, an aide technician and a clerical aide. Myers said the salaries would scale from $12,500 for the executive teacher down to $3,000 for the clerical aide and "would place the greatest majority of students under mentoring of the best teachers."

Myers also discussed a master plan of patterning school districts by student population and thereby creating central distribution of facilities such as audio-visual equipment and transportation.

Finally, Myers reviewed a survey conducted by the public school system of Marion with comparative teacher salary ranges across the state for all brackets of educational training.

Wellsville ranked 102nd out of 117 districts for teachers with two years of training, 106th out of 127 for teachers with three years of college and 147th out of 147 for teachers with a bachelor's degree, the report showed. In addition, Myers said, Wellsville placed 121st out of 122 schools listed for salaries given teachers with five years of training and 147th out of 147 for instructors with a master's degree.

THE BOARD indicated that the progressive ideas echoed at the conference might become a reality in Wellsville within a decade and commended Myers for being one of only 50 state educators invited to attend the recent forum..

Dr. Janis Lauva introduced a list of recommendations presented by the Wellsville teachers' association president, George Lawton, at the board's meeting Nov. 14. The requests were largely financial in nature, including one that teachers approaching retirement age receive salary increases so their pensions would be larger.

Dr. Lauva said the requests were "poorly-timed" in light of the recent defeat of a Wellsville school levy, and moved to postpone consideration of the requests until early in 1967, at which time the board will meet with the teachers.

Rolley said the tax rate for the upcoming year will be $25.20 per thousand and the board exercised the formality of approving the amount. The board renewed its membership in the Ohio School Board"s Association and voted to pay dues of $120 per year.

Rolley also reported that "Head-Start" and Title II programs have been phased-out for lack of funds.

William Ferrall presided.

Senate To Air Kennedy And Hoover Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wiretap flap between Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover will move into the arena of a Senate hearing next year.

Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., announced the scheduling Monday night.

Long, who has been investigating invasions of privacy by wiretappers and electronic snoopers since February 1965, is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures.

At issue is who — Hoover or Kennedy — is telling the truth about who authorized the wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping which has jeopardized a host of federal prosecutions.

One of those cases on the endangered list involves Bobby Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats and a friend of President Johnson.

The first U. S. House of Representatives, in 1790, had 65 members.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about white furs that have yellowed?

A.—Many white furs are originally bleached with a "reducing bleach," and after a time they take on oxygen from the air and begin to turn yellow. This can be overcome usually by spraying on a solution of hydrogen peroxide or by brushing with a soft brush. Sometimes the hanging of the fur in the sun afterward will speed up the restoration process.

Q.—How can I, when preparing my laundry starch, prevent the formation of skin over my starch solution?

A.—By covering the bowl with a piece of cloth, stretched tight, as soon as the starch is mixed.

Q.—How can I recondition shredded coconut that has become hard and tough?

A.—Try heating it over some hot water.

Q.—Is there any way I can prevent a paintbrush from shedding bristles during the painting process?

A.—One way is to give it a varnish treatment. You do this by placing the brush bristles up and pouring clear varnish into the base of the bristles, keeping the brush in an upright position until the varnish has dried and "glued" the bristles into place.

Surgery Ruled Out

Drug Seen Only Hope For Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The physician in charge of Jack Ruby's treatment said today Ruby's cancer has developed too far to be cured by surgery.

Dr. Jack Barnett said the only hope for a cure will lie in chemotherapy, which is treatment by drugs. He ruled out radiological treatment because of the widespread aspect of the cancer.

Barnett is associate professor of internal medicine at Southwestern Medical School, a few steps from Parkland Hospital where Ruby was taken Friday from his jail cell.

The physician also disclosed at a morning news conference that another tumor was found Monday in the pleura—the lining of the chest. He said it was the same sort of cancer found in a lymph node in Ruby's neck Saturday.

Ruby, 55, is the non-drinking, non-smoking onetime night club operator who killed Lee Harvey Oswald, later identified by the Warren Commission as President Kennedy's assassin.

"It is incurable by surgery," the doctor said. "Surgery might be used for benefit, but not for a cure."

Barnett said surgery could not cure Ruby because the cancer has spread from the still unknown primary source into the lymphy system, which is somewhat like the blood vessel system and goes to all parts of the body.

Medical specialists speculate the main cancerous growth lies in a lung, the pancreas or the gastro-intestinal tract.

They said the type of cancer involved is an adenocarcinoma, which denotes relationship to glands.

Dr. Jay Sanford, professor of internal medicine at Southwestern Medical School and head of a medical team attending Ruby, said Monday Ruby may survive "two weeks or five years. He is not necessarily a hopeless case."

The Dallas News and the Dallas Times Herald, quoting unnamed sources, said the malignancy had spread to other parts of Ruby's body and the outlook was not favorable.

Sanford said it was too early to tell "Chances of recovery depend on the location of the primary site" of a malignant tumor found Saturday in a lymph node in Ruby's neck, he said.

Ruby, 55, former Dallas night club operator, was taken from the county jail to Parkland Hospital Friday night. The hospital first said he appeared to have pneumonia.

Ruby shot Oswald two days after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963. Oswald was identified by the Warren Commission as the President's assassin.

Sanford said the source of the malignancy might take more than a week to locate.

Driver Fined For Freeway Car Collision

A Wellsville man was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court after Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him on a reckless driving charge alleging he made a U-turn on the Freeway in a pickup truck that was towing a disabled car, causing a Lisbon woman to lose control of her auto and crash into a guard rail.

James Davidson of 1034 Main St., Wellsville, was named in an affidavit filed by Mrs. Merlin V. Serago of Lisbon, alleging the mishap occurred about 2 p. m. Thursday on the California Hollow section of the four-lane highway. He was found guilty in a lengthy hearing.

Mrs. Serago testified she was driving inbound about 60 miles an hour when Davidson pulled into her path. In braking to avoid a collision, she said, she lost control of her auto, which turned around twice and then hit the guard rail. She said Davidson had been driving outbound on the Freeway, but pulled through a break in the guard rail to get onto the southbound lane.

Davidson testified he was towing his son's car, which had become disabled. He said he halted at the cross-over and waited for traffic to clear. When he pulled out the oncoming Serago car was about a quarter mile away, "just a speck on the road," he testified. He said he pulled onto the right-hand lane and was moving toward the downtown area when he looked in the rear view mirror and saw the Serago car skidding. He estimated he had traveled 1,000 feet after making the turn when he saw the woman's car skid.

Mrs. Serago said the Davidson car was only 30 feet away when he pulled in front of her, but Telzrow in summing up for the defense called that facet of her testimony "unbelievable." At 60 miles an hour, her car was traveling 5,280 feet a minute, he pointed out.

Judge Chertoff, pronouncing sentence, called the mishap "a peculiar case." He said turns are not prohibited at the break in the guard rail.

"Under normal circumstances, I would not hesitate to dismiss this charge," he said. But he pointed out the Ohio reckless driving law requires a motorist to show "due regard for the rights and safety of all other drivers and pedestrians in the lawful use of the highway."

In making the turn while towing another car, Davidson did not show the "due regard" for other traffic, the judge ruled.

Ike Snapping Back From His Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, reported snapping back fast from his gall bladder operation, has his sights set on swinging his golf clubs by early spring.

"The general had a good night," Walter Reed Army Hospital reported this morning, one full day after the one and three-quarter hour operation.

"Multiple large and small gallstones were in the gall bladder which was removed," said the bulletin issued shortly after 5 p.m. Monday. These were the stones which Eisenhower jokingly had referred to as "rocks."

The former first lady, Mamie, was staying near her husband in the executive suit at the hospital. The luxurious accommodations, otherwise known as the presidential suite, include bedrooms, a sitting room and a solarium.

An operation 10 years ago in the same hospital for ileitis, a constriction of the intestine, plus two major heart attacks and a minor cerebral stroke in the patient's history, made the doctors particularly watchful.

When the general was wheeled back to his suite Mrs. Eisenhower, son John and brother Milton were waiting. The general smiled at his wife, said Brig. Gen. Philip W. Mallory, commanding general of the hospital.

The late afternoon bulletin outlined Eisenhower's plans after his hospital stay, which could last 10 days or two weeks.

"Following his discharge from the hospital," the statement said, "Gen. Eisenhower expects to return to his farm in Gettysburg, (Pa.) then early in January will go to Palm Desert (near Palm Springs), Calif. He will stay in Palm Desert the usual length of time. He hopes to be playing golf by early spring."

Kiesinger's Policy Statement

Europe's Future Linked To Bonn-Paris Relations

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger today based his new West German government firmly on the proposition that its relations with President Charles de Gaulle and France will determine the future of Europe.

"The facts of European geography," Kiesinger said in his first major policy statement, "and the balance of history show that under present conditions there is a high measure of agreement in the interests of our two peoples and countries."

He added that "together with France, the oldest ally of America, we consider indispensable a solid alliance between the free European nations in the process of unification and the United States of America, in whatever form the structure of this alliance will take in view of a changed world."

The new chancellor said strengthening and development of the Atlantic alliance "is an important matter to us" and his government "will forget none of the great help which the United States has given us in the past two decades."

But he did not say what he would do about American and British demands that West Germany buy more of their goods to compensate for what they lose in gold and foreign exchange by stationing troops in West Germany.

Clark, Rice Named Again

ROGERS — Robert Clark of W. Walnut St. was re-elected to a third term as president of the Rogers volunteer firemen Monday night and Harley Rice was named to a fourth term as chief.

Others chosen are David Burson, vice president; Earl DeVan, secretary; Earl Cusick, treasurer, and Thurman Mercer, assistant chief.

Trustees elected are Arthur Hostetter, Dennis Deems and James Quetot.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party for area youngsters Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. at the station. Santa Claus will distribute gifts.

A community New Year's Eve party will be sponsored by the firemen Dec. 31 at 9 at the station. Sauerkraut and pork will be served at midnight. Larry and the Playboys will provide music. Tickets will be available at the door.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9. Work sessions are held on Monday nights.

When the general was wheeled back to his suite Mrs. Eisenhower, son John and brother Milton were waiting. The general smiled at his wife, said Brig. Gen. Philip W. Mallory, commanding general of the hospital.

The late afternoon bulletin outlined Eisenhower's plans after his hospital stay, which could last 10 days or two weeks.

"Following his discharge from the hospital," the statement said, "Gen. Eisenhower expects to return to his farm in Gettysburg, (Pa.) then early in January will go to Palm Desert (near Palm Springs), Calif. He will stay in Palm Desert the usual length of time. He hopes to be playing golf by early spring."

Kiesinger's Policy Statement

Europe's Future Linked To Bonn-Paris Relations

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger today based his new West German government firmly on the proposition that its relations with President Charles de Gaulle and France will determine the future of Europe.

"The facts of European geography," Kiesinger said in his first major policy statement, "and the balance of history show that under present conditions there is a high measure of agreement in the interests of our two peoples and countries."

He added that "together with France, the oldest ally of America, we consider indispensable a solid alliance between the free European nations in the process of unification and the United States of America, in whatever form the structure of this alliance will take in view of a changed world."

The new chancellor said strengthening and development of the Atlantic alliance "is an important matter to us" and his government "will forget none of the great help which the United States has given us in the past two decades."

But he did not say what he would do about American and British demands that West Germany buy more of their goods to compensate for what they lose in gold and foreign exchange by stationing troops in West Germany.

Clark, Rice Named Again

ROGERS — Robert Clark of W. Walnut St. was re-elected to a third term as president of the Rogers volunteer firemen Monday night and Harley Rice was named to a fourth term as chief.

Others chosen are David Burson, vice president; Earl DeVan, secretary; Earl Cusick, treasurer, and Thurman Mercer, assistant chief.

Trustees elected are Arthur Hostetter, Dennis Deems and James Quetot.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party for area youngsters Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. at the station. Santa Claus will distribute gifts.

A community New Year's Eve party will be sponsored by the firemen Dec. 31 at 9 at the station. Sauerkraut and pork will be served at midnight. Larry and the Playboys will provide music. Tickets will be available at the door.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9. Work sessions are held on Monday nights.

Industry Man Gets Term As Drunk Driver

A 44-year-old Beaver County man was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to a five-day jail term when he pleaded guilty Monday before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Theodore W. Pack of Russell Hill Rd. at Industry R. D 1 was cited by police Saturday afternoon after his car crashed into the rear of a parked sedan on Harvey Ave. near the state line, driving it into a utility pole.

Judge Chertoff commented that the law does not permit him to suspend a Pennsylvanian's driver's license. But he confiscated Pack's permit and said it will be sent to the registrar of motor vehicles at Harrisburg with a recommendation that it be suspended.

Pack's car hit a 1960 sedan owned by Dogga Presutti of 1924 Michigan Ave., officers said.

Pack, an employe of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., told the judge he has six children.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Sandra Lee Fulmer, 32, of 1031 Florence St. was fined $15 and costs Monday on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Police cited her as an aftermath of a four - car "chain reaction" crash about noon Saturday on Broadway near St. Clair Ave.

Police said her auto struck the rear of a halted auto, driving it forward into another car, which then struck another vehicle.

The crash also involved cars driven by Phillip L. Hunt of Maidsville, W. Va., Sarah C. Phillips of Woodbine Ave. and Charles Huffman of Valley Ave.

Beaver College Names Architect For Master Plan

BEAVER — Joseph Bontempo & Associates of Rochester have been designated by the trustees of the Beaver County Community College as the prime architect for the new college.

The firm will be charged with developing a master plan for the campus and designing the first permanent buildings.

The board expressed intent to rotate the architectural services to implement the master plan, the only qualification being the subsequent esthetic design of the first buildings be carried out. "There will be no limit on ingenuity or skill," the board statement read.

The trustees announced a countywide practical nursing program will begin in the spring at the temporary quarters of the new college at Freedom.

The board also said it is hoped the fall term will be opened by the college in buildings on the permanent campus.

Members will travel to Butler Friday to view community college structures erected there in two months earlier this year.

To Share In Grant

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Mount Union College in Alliance and the College of Wooster will share equally in a $1.5 million grant from the Timken Foundation for the construction of new athletic buildings.

At Monday's Meeting

Chester Council Takes Action On Various Matters

A possible new building project, operation of taverns within the city limits and a proposed swimming pool occupied Chester Council at its meeting Monday night at the chambers in City Hall.

Frank Mangano, owner of the former Goddard Bakery building which recently burned down, appeared before Council to explain his intentions relative to the disposition of the property, which had been described as an "eyesore and a safety hazard" at the Nov. 28 meeting.

THE MAIN stumbling block to clearing the rubble, for which about half a dozen bids have been received, Mangano said, are several ovens belonging to the Jiffy Steak Co. still at the site.

"I dislike leaving it there as much as anybody. The holdup is Jiffy's insurance company. It will be done in a matter of days after Jiffy gets out. The other debris is no problem," Mangano commented.

When asked about his future plans regarding the property, he said he is "optimistic at this point about a new building — something that Chester will be proud of."

Clerk - Treasurer Donald Hood was instructed to write a letter to the offices of Jiffy Steak Co. in Saltsburg, Pa., relative to removing the ovens and to send a copy to the firm's insurance company.

During the discussion, Mayor Burton G. Ward reported that he is attempting to have renewed a former policy of the Tri - State Firemen's Association which permitted the assistance of all departments in cases of emergency such as the bakery fire the night of Nov. 9.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Charles Kology initiated a discussion on procedures for licensing taverns and city ordinances governing their operation. He reported receiving many complaints of noise from a "place in his ward still booming at 3 and 4 in the morning."

He was referring to the former Holiday Lounge on Route 66 in lower Chester, now known as the "Basin Street."

"The law says they should close at midnight, but this place keeps going all night long," Kology continued.

Hood pointed out that the present operator of the lounge is not the same as listed on the original license, and that an additional $100 license fee should be charged.

Council agreed that the establishment should be closed at the stated time, "like the rest of the businesses."

Councilman Robert Kincaid made recommendations in connection with a proposed community swimming pool which would be located in City Park. He suggested a $5 yearly permit for users to maintain the pool following its construction.

Various methods for collecting donations to finance the pool's construction were considered.

Mayor Ward agreed to set up a meeting with the Park Commission during the next Council session, which is to be advanced to Dec. 21 because of the Christmas holiday weekend.

IN OTHER action, Council decided to place traffic signals along the Carolina Ave. portion of Route 30 on a "blinking basis" from 1 to 7 a.m. for a 30-day trial period.

The lights at 1st and 3rd Sts. will be excepted, and will function as during the daytime.

Eugene Robinson of Pan Ave. and 11th St. complained of cars backing into a new wall which he built in front of his property. Council agreed to investigate the situation and to erect appropriate signs.

Councilman Richard Johnston complained again of inadequate repairs in the area of George St. following the laying of gas lines under the surface by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co.

Rex Cowey of 179 Pennsylvania Ave. was approved as a special patrolman, with his services to be made available according to the discretion of the mayor.

Kology reported "good comments" on the juvenile curfew recently put back into effect and said that "the people are pleased with it."

Remittances of $5,217.26, including tax revenue of $5,000 from the Hancock County sheriff's department, were ordered turned into the city treasury. Bills totaling $3,035.10 were approved for payment.

All Councilmen were present at last night's meeting.

E. 5th St. Mishap Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged in a minor mishap Monday night at 8:17 on E. 5th St. about midway between Broadway and Washington St., police reported.

The collision involved a halted 1966 coupe driven by Denise A. Dysert, 16, of 1611 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and a 1957 sedan operated by Marshall G. Satterfield, 19, of Toronto, officers said.

Both vehicles were headed west when the Dysert car was hit from the rear by the Satterfield auto, police said. The Wellsville girl said she halted because a driver ahead of her was maneuvering into a parking spot. Satterfield said he took his eyes of traffic for a moment to look into a store window.

The crash damaged the front of the Satterfield auto and the rear of the Dysert car, which is registered to William F. Dysert, also of 1611 Buckeye Ave.

More Names Drawn For County Jury Duty

LISBON — James S. Gregg of Salem and J. Clifford Conley of East Liverpool, Columbiana County jury commissioners, drew 230 names from the jury wheel Monday in Common Pleas Court.

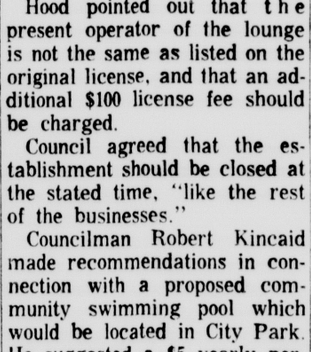

Thirty names were drawn for the grand jury to be selected Jan. 4, 170 for petit jury duty in criminal and civil cases during the January term and 30 at the request of Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court.

The drawing was done in the presence of Judge Joel H. Sharp, who will preside for criminal trials next term. Assisting Gregg and Conley were Mrs. Lillian Rogers, court stenographer; Norman S. Ward, bailiff and assignment commissioner; Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey and Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan.

Receives Promotion

LISBON — Charles D. Bosel, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Bosel of Route 3, has been promoted to Army Specialist 4 in Germany, where he is an ammunition records clerk at the 4th Armored Division Support Command Headquarters near Crailsheim. Bosel entered the service in February 1966 and was stationed at Redstone Arsenal, Ala., before arriving overseas in June 1966. He is a 1962 graduate of David Anderson High School. His wife, Darlene, is with him in Germany.

Council Holds Brief Session

LISBON — Council gave first reading Monday night to an ordinance vacating a platted but non - existent alley between the Bennett and Burson properties on S. Lincoln Ave.

The only other action at the one-hour session was passage of an emergency ordinance to appropriate $7,727 for the cemetery fund.

John Ebert, clerk - treasurer, reported receipt of a certificate from County Auditor Kenneth Bell showing estimated resources in that amount available above what had been budgeted for the fund.

Council continued consideration of a volunteer fire department request for boots, fire coats, ties and badges for certain firemen.

The next meeting will be Dec. 29.

Following last night's session, Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi and his wife Sally entertained village officials at a housewarming party in their new home on the East Liverpool Rd.

2 Children Die As Antenna Hits 440-Volt Line

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)— James L. Robinson Sr. of rural Ross County brought home a newly purchased television antenna. It turned out to be a prelude to tragedy.

Five of nine Robinson children, eager to put the antenna up right away, went outside after dark Monday to do so.

Two were killed and two injured when it contacted a 440-volt power line. The other narrowly escaped harm.

Deputy Sheriff Ollie Meade said electrocution victims of the accident nine miles south of here were James L. Robinson, Jr., 18, and his sister Judy Ann, 15.

Arnold, 17, and Donald, 12 were treated for shock at Greenfield Municipal Hospital and released. Betha, 13, pulled her hands back just in time.

Ohio Will Drop Seagram's Stock If Prices Go Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP — State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook says Ohio would not be able to stock Seagram's products next year unless the firm drops its price increase.

"We would add other brands of other companies equally good or better than Seagram's," Cook said Monday.

The Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc., is the biggest whisky distributor in Ohio and accounts for 23 per cent of liquor business in the state, or about $60 million a year in sales through state stores.

Cook said the brands which would not appear next year, unless the dispute is settled, would be Seagram's Seven Crown, the volume leader in Ohio and the nation, VO, and some of the top sellers in such Seagram's divisions as Calvert, Four Roses and Frankfort Distillers.

Cook said Seagram's has enough stock to last through the Christmas season.

The price increase would amount to "about 45 cents a bottle" at the retail level on what Cook described as Seagram's best sellers.

PERMANENT PRESS FOR BEST RESULTS TUMBLE DRY

Permanent press labels say: FOR BEST RESULTS, TUMBLE DRY.
(In a flameless electric dryer.)

Permanent press is a pace-setting trend in today's clothing. The fabric is chemically treated and exposed to high temperatures . . . forming a bond that permanently keeps the creases and pleats sharp, fresh looking.

Yet, care must be exercised to keep permanent press clothing in proper shape.

Clothesline drying is not recommended.

For best results, tumble dry in a flameless electric dryer. Why? Because an electric dryer has just the right temperature to make the fabric react and retain its original shape.

Clothes should not be left in the dryer. But if this happens, simply turn on your electric dryer for a few more minutes. Its gentle tumbling action and proper heating temperature make the permanent press articles pliable again . . . and the wrinkles will vanish.

When the permanent press clothes are electrically dried, they retain their correct shape . . . keep that "brand-new" look, washing after washing after washing. You'll rarely have to resort to the drudgery of ironing any permanent press fabric, even sheets, if you have an electric dryer. It's flameless of course.

If you're not already enjoying the benefits of an electric dryer, your dealer has a special installation offer for Ohio Power customers.*

*Offer good for limited time only.

At Monday's Meeting

Chester Council Takes Action On Various Matters

A possible new building project, operation of taverns within the city limits and a proposed swimming pool occupied Chester Council at its meeting Monday night at the chambers in City Hall.

Frank Mangano, owner of the former Goddard Bakery building which recently burned down, appeared before Council to explain his intentions relative to the disposition of the property, which had been described as an "eyesore and a safety hazard" at the Nov. 28 meeting.

THE MAIN stumbling block to clearing the rubble, for which about half a dozen bids have been received, Mangano said, are several ovens belonging to the Jiffy Steak Co. still at the site.

"I dislike leaving it there as much as anybody. The holdup is Jiffy's insurance company. It will be done in a matter of days after Jiffy gets out. The other debris is no problem," Mangano commented.

When asked about his future plans regarding the property, he said he is "optimistic at this point about a new building — something that Chester will be proud of."

Clerk - Treasurer Donald Hood was instructed to write a letter to the offices of Jiffy Steak Co. in Saltsburg, Pa., relative to removing the ovens and to send a copy to the firm's insurance company.

During the discussion, Mayor Burton G. Ward reported that he is attempting to have renewed a former policy of the Tri - State Firemen's Association which permitted the assistance of all departments in cases of emergency such as the bakery fire the night of Nov. 9.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Charles Kology initiated a discussion on procedures for licensing taverns and city ordinances governing their operation. He reported receiving many complaints of noise from a "place in his ward still booming at 3 and 4 in the morning."

He was referring to the former Holiday Lounge on Route 66 in lower Chester, now known as the "Basin Street."

"The law says they should close at midnight, but this place keeps going all night long," Kology continued.

Hood pointed out that the present operator of the lounge is not the same as listed on the original license, and that an additional $100 license fee should be charged.

Council agreed that the establishment should be closed at the stated time, "like the rest of the businesses."

Councilman Robert Kincaid made recommendations in connection with a proposed community swimming pool which would be located in City Park. He suggested a $5 yearly permit for users to maintain the pool following its construction.

Various methods for collecting donations to finance the pool's construction were considered.

Mayor Ward agreed to set up a meeting with the Park Commission during the next Council session, which is to be advanced to Dec. 21 because of the Christmas holiday weekend.

—:—

IN OTHER action, Council decided to place traffic signals along the Carolina Ave. portion of Route 30 on a "blinking basis" from 1 to 7 a.m. for a 30-day trial period.

The lights at 1st and 3rd Sts. will be excepted, and will function as during the daytime.

Eugene Robinson of Pan Ave. and 11th St. complained of cars backing into a new wall which he built in front of his property. Council agreed to investigate the situation and to erect appropriate signs.

Councilman Richard Johnston complained again of inadequate repairs in the area of George St. following the laying of gas lines under the surface by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co.

Rex Cowey of 179 Pennsylvania Ave. was approved as a special patrolman, with his services to be made available according to the discretion of the mayor.

Kology reported "good comments" on the juvenile curfew recently put back into effect and said that "the people are pleased with it."

Remittances of $5,317.26, including tax revenue of $5,000 from the Hancock County sheriff's department, were ordered turned into the city treasury. Bills totaling $3,035.10 were approved for payment.

All Councilmen were present at last night's meeting.

E. 5th St. Mishap Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged in a minor mishap Monday night at 8:17 on E. 5th St. about midway between Broadway and Washington St., police reported.

The collision involved a halted 1966 coupe driven by Denise A. Dysert, 16, of 1611 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and a 1967 sedan operated by Marshall G. Satterfield, 19, of Toronto, officers said.

Both vehicles were headed west when the Dysert car was hit from the rear by the Satterfield auto, police said. The Wellsville girl said she halted because a driver ahead of her was maneuvering into a parking spot. Satterfield said he took his eyes of traffic for a moment to look into a store window.

The crash damaged the front of the Satterfield auto and the rear of the Dysert car, which is registered to William F. Dysert, also of 1611 Buckeye Ave.

Council Holds Brief Session

LISBON — Council gave first reading Monday night to an ordinance vacating a platted but non - existent alley between the Bennett and Burson properties on S. Lincoln Ave.

The only other action at the one-hour session was passage of an emergency ordinance to appropriate $7,727 for the cemetery fund.

John Ebert, clerk - treasurer, reported receipt of a certificate from County Auditor Kenneth Bell showing estimated resources in that amount available above what had been budgeted for the fund.

Council continued consideration of a volunteer fire department request for boots, fire coats, ties and badges for certain firemen.

The next meeting will be Dec. 29.

Following last night's session, Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi and his wife Sally entertained village officials at a housewarming party in their new home on the East Liverpool Rd.

2 Children Die As Antenna Hits 440-Volt Line

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)— James L. Robinson Sr. of rural Ross County brought home a newly purchased television antenna. It turned out to be a prelude to tragedy.

Five of nine Robinson children, eager to put the antenna up right away, went outside after dark Monday to do so.

Two were killed and two injured when it contacted a 440-volt power line. The other narrowly escaped harm.

Deputy Sheriff Ollie Meade said electrocution victims of the accident nine miles south of here were James. L. Robinson, Jr., 13, and his sister Judy Ann, 15.

Arnold, 17, and Donald, 12 were treated for shock at Greenfield Municipal Hospital and released. Betha, 13, pulled her hands back just in time.

Ohio Will Drop Seagram's Stock If Prices Go Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP — State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook says Ohio would not be able to stock Seagram's products next year unless the firm drops its price increase.

"We would add other brands of other companies equally good or better than Seagram's," Cook said Monday.

The Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc., is the biggest whisky distributor in Ohio and accounts for 23 per cent of liquor business in the state, or about $60 million a year in sales through state stores.

Cook said the brands which would not appear next year, unless the dispute is settled, would be Seagram's Seven Crown, the volume leader in Ohio and the nation, VO, and some of the top sellers in such Seagram's divisions as Calvert, Four Roses and Frankfort Distillers.

Cook said Seagram's has enough stock to last through the Christmas season.

The price increase would amount to "about 45 cents a bottle" at the retail level on what Cook described as Seagram's best sellers.

PERMANENT PRESS FOR BEST RESULTS TUMBLE DRY

Permanent press labels say: FOR BEST RESULTS, TUMBLE DRY.

(In a flameless electric dryer.)

Permanent press is a pace-setting trend in today's clothing. The fabric is chemically treated and exposed to high temperatures . . . forming a bond that permanently keeps the creases and pleats sharp, fresh looking.

Yet, care must be exercised to keep permanent press clothing in proper shape.

Clothesline drying is not recommended.

For best results, tumble dry in a flameless electric dryer. Why? Because an electric dryer has just the right temperature to make the fabric react and retain its original shape.

Clothes should not be left in the dryer. But if this happens, simply turn on your electric dryer for a few more minutes. Its gentle tumbling action and proper heating temperature make the permanent press articles pliable again . . . and the wrinkles will vanish.

When the permanent press clothes are electrically dried, they retain their correct shape . . . keep that "brand-new" look, washing after washing after washing. You'll rarely have to resort to the drudgery of ironing any permanent press fabric, even sheets, if you have an electric dryer. It's flameless of course.

If you're not already enjoying the benefits of an electric dryer, your dealer has a special installation offer for Ohio Power customers.*

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused by your statement that the man who kissed his wife goodbye at the station every morning wasn't necessarily a true blue husband. You may be right, but why doesn't somebody say something about the suburban wife? How true blue is she?

What goes on in my little neighborhood after the husbands leave for work would make Peyton Place look like a Sunday school picnic. My next-door neighbor has been spending four mornings a week with an insurance adjuster. (Just how long does it take for a person to get her claim adjusted, anyway?)

The lady across the street fixes lunch every day for the real estate man who sold her the house four months ago. The woman two houses down has a plumber over there at least twice a week.

So take the blinders off and look at the total picture. The wives who kiss their husbands goodbye at the station aren't so true blue either. They could bear watching. — MIDDLE MONKEY.

Dear Monkey: Okay, then, go ahead and watch 'em. I haven't time for such stuff. Who does your housework anyway?

Relatively Speaking

Dear Ann: I'm writing about the woman who has asthma and hives and wondered what the doctor meant when he said she got them from her husband. She was reluctant to accept the doctor's diagnosis because she couldn't believe asthma and hives were contagious.

Her letter was way out but your answer was perfect. I loved what you said about ulcers. And you were so right.

Ulcers are a sign of interpersonal problems but it isn't always the husband or the wife, Ann. It can be somebody else who lives under the roof.

Many married couples have a mother or a mother-in-law or a step-brother or a great-aunt living with them. These additions can be real trouble and often there is no way to get rid of them short of a family rupture.

You have done a lot of good by declaring that a husband and wife owe their first allegiance to one another, and a third party who makes trouble between them should not be tolerated. I know about these things because I have both ulcers and hives — and a relative living with us. — X. PERIENCED.

Dear X.: Thanks for your letter, and now that you know the score, don't just sit there —do something.

Gifted Hostess

Dear Ann: Whenever we are invited to a small dinner party I bake pastry or an elegant dessert. Invariably the hostess says thank you (in haste) and puts my treat out of sight.

When I entertain and someone brings a treat I always serve it along with my own dessert and I thank the person in the presence of the others.

It occurred to me that perhaps I'm being tactless since the guests who did not bring anything might feel uncomfortable. Please set me straight. — EUROPEAN.

Dear European: It's not essential to bring a home-made goody when you come to a dinner party. Apparently you enjoy doing so, and I would not deny you the pleasure by suggesting that you stop.

But to expect the hostess to serve your dessert is asking too much. Most people don't need one dessert, much less two.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Coin Receptacle Taken At Church

A collection box containing an unknown amount of money was pried off the wall and stolen from the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon or evening, police were told late Monday morning by the Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister.

Rev. Toot timed the theft between 4 and 7 p. m. Sunday. He also discovered Monday morning that a brick had been hurled through a 1-x-7-foot window on the west side of the building, he told officers.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ronald Householder of 601 Henry Ave. told police Monday $13 in change and miscellaneous other items were stolen by thieves who entered her home through the unlocked back door last Thursday.

In addition to the $13 in quarters and pennies, the intruders stole two pairs of pajamas, a baby blanket, under clothing and a ring worth about $7, she said.

In going scoreless the last 33 innings of the 1966 World Series the Dodgers failed to capitalize on 15 hits and 7 walks.

Council Eyes Pay Hike Bill At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — An ordinance providing a salary increase for two employes of the water department was ordered prepared by Council during a meeting Monday night.

At the request of the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, Council authorized preparation for the next meeting Dec. 23 a measure boosting the pay of Supt. Ernest Madison and Assistant Supt. Joseph Weston.

The measure would provide a salary of $440 for Madison, who is now receiving $415, and $400 for Weston, now getting $375.

Members discussed details of a contract with the Village Cable TV Co. for providing service for the community. A meeting is to be set with representatives of the firm for further talks.

A request from Paul Sweeney of E. Main St. for repairs in an alley at his home was referred to the street committee. Cleaning and papering of the Council room at the fire station was discussed, but no action was taken.

A meeting with village employes concerning a proposed insurance program will be held Dec. 21 at 7:30 at the station.

A revision of the appropriation ordinance for 1966 funds was approved. Council accepted the tax rates as set by the Columbiana County Budget Commission. They include 2.8 mills within the 10-mill limitation and 1.5 mills outside.

Farmer's Tax Guide Available At Lisbon

LISBON — The 1967 farmer's tax guide is available at the Columbiana County extension office, 113 S. Market St.

Joe D. Pittman, county extension agent, said the publication is "very helpful and almost a necessity" for farmers, accountants and attorneys or anyone else helping the farmer file income tax forms.

The guide considers changes in the tax law and makes helpful suggestions.

However, the guide was printed before the Investment Credit Law has changed, Pittman pointed out. He advised farmers to contact the Internal Revenue Service office for Document 5050 which contains all the changes in the Investment Credit Law.

Probe Quickens In 7 Slayings In Cincinnati Area

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The investigation of six strangulation slayings picked up momentum today as police probed further into the fatal stabbing of another woman.

Police held Posteal Laskey, 29, a laborer and a former cabdriver, but have not charged him with any of the murders. He has denied knowing anything about them.

Laskey was charged earlier with several minor offenses and was being questioned about the series of slayings.

Police, giving no further comment, called a news conference today.

The murders are the stabbing of Barbara Bowman, 31, and the strangling of six elderly women. The stranglings started Dec. 2, 1965, and have made Cincinnati a city of fear.

All the strangling victims were more than 50 years old. Five had been raped.

Laskey was arrested Friday shortly after Lula Kerrick, 81, was found strangled in the elevator of her apartment house two blocks from police headquarters.

The arrest was not directly concerned with the slaying. Police picked up Laskey on the complaint of a woman who lived near Miss Kerrick and said a man had chased her into her home. A neighbor noted the license number of the man's car.

Late Monday, police obtained a search warrant and took three bags full of undisclosed items from the homes of Laskey's mother and from an apartment he rented four weeks ago.

Miss Bowman, a secretary, was found dying early Aug. 14 near a wrecked taxicab that turned out to have been stolen.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused by your statement that the man who kissed his wife goodbye at the station every morning wasn't necessarily a true blue husband. You may be right, but why doesn't somebody say something about the suburban wife? How true blue is she?

What goes on in my little neighborhood after the husbands leave for work would make Peyton Place look like a Sunday school picnic. My next-door neighbor has been spending four mornings a week with an insurance adjuster. (Just how long does it take for a person to get her claim adjusted, anyway?)

The lady across the street fixes lunch every day for the real estate man who sold her the house four months ago. The woman two houses down has a plumber over there at least twice a week.

So take the blinders off and look at the total picture. The wives who kiss their husbands goodbye at the station aren't so true blue either. They could bear watching. — MIDDLE MONKEY.

Dear Monkey: Okay, then, go ahead and watch 'em. I haven't time for such stuff. Who does your housework anyway?

Relatively Speaking

Dear Ann: I'm writing about the woman who has asthma and hives and wondered what the doctor meant when he said she got them from her husband. She was reluctant to accept the doctor's diagnosis because she couldn't believe asthma and hives were contagious.

Her letter was way out but your answer was perfect. I loved what you said about ulcers. And you were so right.

Ulcers are a sign of interpersonal problems but it isn't always the husband or the wife, Ann. It can be somebody else who lives under the roof.

Many married couples have a mother or a mother-in-law or a step-brother or a great-aunt living with them. These additions can be real trouble and often there is no way to get rid of them short of a family rupture.

You have done a lot of good by declaring that a husband and wife owe their first allegiance to one another, and a third party who makes trouble between them should not be tolerated. I know about these things because I have both ulcers and hives — and a relative living with us. — X. PERIENCED.

Dear X.: Thanks for your letter, and now that you know the score, don't just sit there —do something.

Gifted Hostess

Dear Ann: Whenever we are invited to a small dinner party I bake pastry or an elegant dessert. Invariably the hostess says thank you (in haste) and puts my treat out of sight.

When I entertain and someone brings a treat I always serve it along with my own dessert and I thank the person in the presence of the others.

It occurred to me that perhaps I'm being tactless since the guests who did not bring anything might feel uncomfortable. Please set me straight. — EUROPEAN.

Dear European: It's not essential to bring a home-made goody when you come to a dinner party. Apparently you enjoy doing so, and I would not deny you the pleasure by suggesting that you stop.

But to expect the hostess to serve your dessert is asking too much. Most people don't need one dessert, much less two.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Coin Receptacle Taken At Church

A collection box containing an unknown amount of money was pried off the wall and stolen from the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon or evening, police were told late Monday morning by the Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister.

Rev. Toot timed the theft between 4 and 7 p. m. Sunday. He also discovered Monday morning that a brick had been hurled through a 1-x-7-foot window on the west side of the building, he told officers.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ronald Householder of 601 Henry Ave. told police Monday $13 in change and miscellaneous other items were stolen by thieves who entered her home through the unlocked back door last Thursday.

In addition to the $13 in quarters and pennies, the intruders stole two pairs of pajamas, a baby blanket, under clothing and a ring worth about $7, she said.

In going scoreless the last 33 innings of the 1966 World Series the Dodgers failed to capitalize on 15 hits and 7 walks.

Council Eyes Pay Hike Bill At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — An ordinance providing a salary increase for two employes of the water department was ordered prepared by Council during a meeting Monday night.

At the request of the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, Council authorized preparation for the next meeting Dec. 23 a measure boosting the pay of Supt. Ernest Madison and Assistant Supt. Joseph Weston.

The measure would provide a salary of $440 for Madison, who is now receiving $415, and $400 for Weston, now getting $375.

Members discussed details of a contract with the Village Cable TV Co. for providing service for the community. A meeting is to be set with representatives of the firm for further talks.

A request from Paul Sweeney of E. Main St. for repairs in an alley at his home was referred to the street committee. Cleaning and papering of the Council room at the fire station was discussed, but no action was taken.

A meeting with village employes concerning a proposed insurance program will be held Dec. 21 at 7:30 at the station.

Farmer's Tax Guide Available At Lisbon

LISBON — The 1967 farmer's tax guide is available at the Columbiana County extension office, 113 S. Market St.

The guide considers changes in the tax law and makes helpful suggestions.

However, the guide was printed before the Investment Credit Law has changed, Pittman pointed out. He advised farmers to contact the Internal Revenue Service office for Document 5050 which contains all the changes in the Investment Credit Law.

Probe Quickens In 7 Slayings In Cincinnati Area

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The investigation of six strangulation slayings picked up momentum today as police probed further into the fatal stabbing of another woman.

Police held Posteal Laskey, 29, a laborer and a former cabdriver, but have not charged him with any of the murders. He has denied knowing anything about them.

Laskey was charged earlier with several minor offenses and was being questioned about the series of slayings.

Police, giving no further comment, called a news conference today.

The murders are the stabbing of Barbara Bowman, 31, and the strangling of six elderly women. The stranglings started Dec. 2, 1965, and have made Cincinnati a city of fear.

All the strangling victims were more than 50 years old. Five had been raped.

Laskey was arrested Friday shortly after Lula Kerrick, 81, was found strangled in the elevator of her apartment house two blocks from police headquarters.

The arrest was not directly concerned with the slaying. Police picked up Laskey on the complaint of a woman who lived near Miss Kerrick and said a man had chased her into her home. A neighbor noted the license number of the man's car.

Late Monday, police obtained a search warrant and took three bags full of undisclosed items from the homes of Laskey's mother and from an apartment he rented four weeks ago.

Miss Bowman, a secretary, was found dying early Aug. 14 near a wrecked taxicab that turned out to have been stolen.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Billy and Santa travel across the seas in a turtle boat. They visit three fabulous islands before they come to the Island of Jewels.

CHAPTER EIGHT

The turtle boat landed on the shores of the island. Santa and Billy stepped out into a garden of jewels.

Emerald trees and diamond bushes and opal flowers bordered the walks of the garden. Sapphires and turquoise glittered in the grass. The precious stones sparkled in the sunlight and tinkled softly in the breeze.

A beautiful pixie came to meet them. She wore a pearl diadem on her head and a jade locket hung from her throat.

—:—

"WELCOME," said the pixie. "I hope you like our garden."

"It is beautiful," said Santa. "But we do not have time to enjoy it."

He told her how Billy must slay Goko the giant because Goko had captured the Fairy Queen and the moon and vowed to capture Santa and rule all of Fairyland.

The pixie was very disturbed because this meant the giant would rule the Isle of Jewels, too. "What can I do?" she moaned.

Santa asked if she would give Billy the Rosanna Ruby. The pixie led them to the ruby grove and pointed to a brilliant stone. "This is the fairest jewel on the isle," she said. "I would gladly give it to you but it cannot be plucked from its branch unless Billy can solve a problem."

"What problem?" asked Billy eagerly.

"An arithmetic problem" said the pixie.

—:—

BILLY sighed. Of all school subjects arithmetic had been the one he hated most. He had never done his lessons at all. He never believed a giant fighter would need arithmetic and spelling and boring things like that.

"What is the problem?" asked Santa.

The Harp Witch had finished the magic necklace.

The pixie said, "Billy has 24 apple pies. Billy eats thirteen. I eat one. You eat two. What is Billy left with?"

Billy got a stick and drew numbers in the dirt. He added and subtracted and crossed things out. He screwed up his face and chewed on his tongue and oh! how he wished he had paid attention at school.

Suddenly he had an answer. He cried, "If I had 24 apple pies and I ate thirteen and you ate one and Santa ate two I would be left with a stomach ache!"

The pixie held her sides and doubled up with laughter. "That's not the answer I had in mind but it will do!" she said and she plucked the ruby from its branch. She placed the stone in Billy's hands and said, "May this jewel help you slay the wicked giant!"

Then Billy and Santa climbed back into the turtle's upside down shell and sailed back across the sea to the land of the Harp Witch.

THE WITCH had not been idle while they were gone. She had made a necklace out of the hairs from her own head woven with the webs of a hundred black widow spiders and the wool from the backs of a thousand caterpillars.

She took the Rosanna Ruby and placed it carefully in the center of the band. It blazed with such flaming beauty it was certain the giant would not be able to resist it.

"But the band is so small," said Billy. "How will it fit around the giant's neck?"

The witch said the necklace would expand or shrink to fit any size and Billy must be careful not to wear it himself or it would work its magic on him.

Billy put it away in his pocket and Santa said he was ready to go fight Goko the giant. But the witch said. "What about all the other giants? Goko's brothers and his cousins and his nephews?" They all live together in Goko's castle."

"W-what about them?" quavered Billy.

"You must destroy them ALL!" cried the witch.

$4,299 Expense Listed In Dickson Campaign Drive

The election of D. Barry Dickson of East Palestine to a county judge seat at the Nov. 8 general election cost $4,299.92, according to three sworn statements of campaign expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

Dickson's personal expense report shows expenditures of $1,376.45. A report from Janet M. Seagle of 505 E. Grant St., East Palestine, as chairman of the Dickson for Judge Committee, reports expenditures of $2,031.05. The same woman filed a separate report as secretary-treasurer of the Judiciary Improvement Committee, listing expenses of $892.42. An East Palestine attorney, Dickson was named on the nonpartisan judicial ticket.

Meanwhile, two more reports showed a total of $1,744 was spent in the campaign in which State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of near Lisbon, a Republican, won a new term.

The Wetzel for Representative Committee spent $1,744, according to a report filed by Clyde M. Wilson of Lisbon, chairman. Wetzel filed a separate report showing expenses of $1,244. But the $1,244 was turned over to the Wetzel for Representative Committee, the report said.

Dec. 23 is the deadline for the reports. They are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Jim Gillick, 235-pound tackle for Wagner College's football team, lists cooking and sewing as two of his hobbies.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Recently I bought twin beds to replace a double.

To provide blankets for the smaller beds, I simply cut off the sides of all my wool blankets (with a pair of scissors) to fit the new twin beds, and found the wool did not ravel.

With the sewing machine, I doublestitched the comforters along one edge, and also cut them off with the scissors.

It cost me nothing but my time . . . and I couldn't have used the double blankets and comforters anyway!

SELMA HARRISON.

Thanks for your wonderful money - saving idea, Selma.

Sheets and mattress pads may also be utilized by altering them to fit the twin beds.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I know the answer to making dirty dishes disappear: Wash them immediately!

OMA KAY.

DEAR HELOISE: My 3-year-old couldn't distinguish between her children's phonograph records and required my help in identifying them.

I drew a tiny picture on the label of each record that represents the particular song.

One might paste small pictures cut from magazines if drawing is too difficult. For instance, a cat could stand for "Pussycat, Pussycat", etc.

Now she plays her records all alone.

GAYLE CRANFORD.

DEAR HELOISE: I have an 8x20-inch aluminum-coated asbestos hot pad that I couldn't do without. (It cost less than $1.)

I often use it as a shield—standing it behind the frying pan on the back burner to keep the wall grease-free.

It also is handy to put over the two front burners that I rarely use (because of the children running by and possibly grabbing a simmering pan). It not only keeps those two burners free from dust and dirt, but also provides extra space for big spoons, basters, etc.

In fact, I have been so pleased with this hot pad that I bought another one same size, and will use the two of them for covering the four burners when not in use. How about that?

I think that's one of the coolest hot pad ideas yet. Thanks a million, D.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a square of nylon net to wash the soap dish in the tile wall. You should see how it removes the built-up soap.

Works quickly and no soaking is necessary.

I also use this net for washing lavatory basin and bathtub, cleans quickly.

H. K. C.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to dread the night before trash day, straightening a pile of disorderly newspapers and hunting around for string to tie them.

I thought of keeping a large, open grocery bag in the pantry. Now, as the papers are read, I just fold the large ones, leave the compacts as they are, and slip them into the upright bag. They fit perfectly.

When one bag is full, I start another.

It's been a godsend. It's easier for the collector to pick up, too, and they do not blow down the street.

On trash day, all I need do is carry out the bags of neatly folded papers.

No muss—no fuss.

EVELYN SWEENEY

DEAR HELOISE: When you have to pack lunches every morning, and need some hard-boiled eggs to make egg salad sandwiches:

Have soft - boiled eggs for breakfast and cook extra ones hard to use in sandwich spreads.

The hard-boiled eggs will finish cooking while breakfast is being served and this method saves washing an extra pan.

State Board Will Be Asked To Speed Funds To Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board will be asked Wednesday to provide early payment of nearly $2 million for school districts feeling the pinch of having to bus 129,456 private and parochial school pupils.

The State Board of Education voted to ask for the funds at its regular monthly meeting Monday after being told that the "Fair Bus Bill," under which the students are being transported, is creating a hardship on many districts.

Martin Essex, state superintendent of public instruction, said the law, which went into effect this year, provides payment of extra costs incurred in the busing, but not until after the actual costs are computed at the end of the school year.

Essex said many districts cannot afford the extra costs and "need their funds to provide the normal instructional services."

Much of the meeting was taken up with discussion of the completed "master plan" for Ohio education, calling for reorganization of the state's 712 school districts on a basis of student populations and not with county or community boundaries.

A motion to adopt a report on the plan and submit it to the 1967 Legislature for action was tabled, meaning the plan will come up for discussion at the January meeting, despite a Jan. 1 deadline for submission.

The vote to table came after board member Elliott Myers of Ironton said he was sure the plan could be submitted after the deadline.

In other action, the board:

—Created a new city school district comprising the former Nelsonville and York Local districts in Athens County.

— Dissolved the Moundbuilders Joint Vocational School District in the Newark area which failed to win voter approval Nov. 8.

—Revoked the teachers certificate of Thomas H. Stubbs of Athens, convicted for petty larceny and breaking and entering.

Six Who Escaped From Jail Held For Grand Jury

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six men who escaped from Allegheny County Jail Nov. 26 were ordered held Monday for grand jury action on eight charges, including holding prison guards hostage.

The six included three Western Penitentiary convicts who six hours earlier were given stiff sentences for contempt of court and staging an abortive prison break attempt from the state penitentiary June, 27, 1965.

The three—Richard Mayberry, 28; Dominic Codispodi, 35, both of Philadelphia, and Herbert F. Lagnes, 26, of Milwaukee, Wis. were given sentences ranging from 26 to 62 years.

The contempt of court citations stemmed from incidents which led Judge Albert Fiok to order two gagged and bound in straitjackets.

Also during the trial, Mayberry, Codispodi, and Lagnes were held in the county jail. They and fellow inmates Charles Ganss, 22, of Cabot, Butler County; Donald Montgomery, 24, of Pittsburgh's suburban Brackenridge, and Manuel Madronal, 34, of the Bronx, New York City, overpowered guards and escaped.

Shooting Scrape Leaves 2 Dead, Another Critical

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two persons are dead and another was in critical condition as the result of a shooting scrape in a Columbus bar early today.

Police identified the dead as Richard Hanrahan, 25, and his wife, Jacqueline. Both lived at separate addresses in Columbus.

Reported in critical condition in Mount Carmel Hospital was Sandra Martin, 21, also of Columbus. She was shot under the arm.

Police said Hanrahan walked into the bar and opened fire on a group of five people, including his wife and the wounded woman.

Mrs. Hanrahan suffered a fatal bullet wound in her head.

Hanrahan then turned toward a bartender, identified by police as Lynn Heegle, 28. Heegle reached below the bar, grabbed a 38 caliber revolver and killed Hanrahan, police said.

Ohio's Assembly Set To Look At Self, Operations

KENT, Ohio (AP)—One thing the Ohio Legislature will do in its biennial session staring Jan. 2 is take a look at itself and its operations.

And some changes already are in the making, according to House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess.

Kurfess is one of about a dozen legislators from Ohio, Michigan and Indiana who are attending a conference, sponsored by the American Assembly, at Kent State University this week. The conference is studying problems and internal operations of state legislatures.

One issue certain to come before the Ohio Legislature is the question of changing from biennial to annual sessions.

"I have felt for some time that Ohio should have annual sessions and go to annual budgets," the Bowling Green Republican said in an interview.

He indicated that if the system were changed, the alternate annual sessions should consider budgetary matters only.

"Operationally, the Ohio Legislature compares favorably with most states," Kurfess remarked. "One area in which we have neglected ourselves," he added, "is in giving the Legislature—the committees especially—a professional staff."

Steps have been taken already, according to Kurfess, to provide staff help for committee chairmen.

The Legislative Service Commission staff, recently enlarged, will be available to committee chairmen for research work, the new speaker said.

"I think we will be behind some of the larger, more active states, but this is a great step," Kurfess declared.

Enacts Income Tax

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — City council enacted a .75 of one per cent income tax Monday night, 5-2, anticipating it will produce about $148,500 in revenue the first year.

Mr. Mitchell is one of our "storekeepers." Like all of them, he knows that people come to the money store to save money or to borrow it. Either reason, he's happy to see you because we're in business to say yes. If you don't believe it, just put us to the test. Come in, tell us how much you need and what you can afford to pay back each month. For example, if you borrow $1600 you pay back only $60.09 a month. It's as easy as that and it should be—because the money store's job is to make borrowing money and paying it back easier for you. How much do you need to meet tomorrow? And what time today do you want your money? Just tell Mr. Mitchell or any of our "storekeepers." He'll get out his yes stamp and put on his smile.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused by your statement that the man who kissed his wife goodbye at the station every morning wasn't necessarily a true blue husband. You may be right, but why doesn't somebody say something about the suburban wife? How true blue is she?

What goes on in my little neighborhood after the husbands leave for work would make Peyton Place look like a Sunday school picnic. My next-door neighbor has been spending four mornings a week with an insurance adjuster. (Just how long does it take for a person to get her claim adjusted, anyway?)

The lady across the street fixes lunch every day for the real estate man who sold her the house four months ago. The woman two houses down has a plumber over there at least twice a week.

So take the blinders off and look at the total picture. The wives who kiss their husbands goodbye at the station aren't so true blue either. They could bear watching. — MIDDLE MONKEY.

Dear Monkey: Okay, then, go ahead and watch 'em. I haven't time for such stuff. Who does your housework anyway?

Relatively Speaking

Dear Ann: I'm writing about the woman who has asthma and hives and wondered what the doctor meant when he said she got them from her husband. She was reluctant to accept the doctor's diagnosis because she couldn't believe asthma and hives were contagious.

Her letter was way out but your answer was perfect. I loved what you said about ulcers. And you were so right.

Ulcers are a sign of interpersonal problems but it isn't always the husband or the wife, Ann. It can be somebody else who lives under the roof.

Many married couples have a mother or a mother-in-law or a step-brother or a great-aunt living with them. These additions can be real trouble and often there is no way to get rid of them short of a family rupture.

You have done a lot of good by declaring that a husband and wife owe their first allegiance to one another, and a third party who makes trouble between them should not be tolerated. I know about these things because I have both ulcers and hives — and a relative living with us. — X. PERIENCED.

Dear X.: Thanks for your letter, and now that you know the score, don't just sit there—do something.

Gifted Hostess

Dear Ann: Whenever we are invited to a small dinner party I bake pastry or an elegant dessert. Invariably the hostess says thank you (in haste) and puts my treat out of sight.

When I entertain and someone brings a treat I always serve it along with my own dessert and I thank the person in the presence of the others.

It occurred to me that perhaps I'm being tactless since the guests who did not bring anything might feel uncomfortable. Please set me straight. — EUROPEAN.

Dear European: It's not essential to bring a home-made goody when you come to a dinner party. Apparently you enjoy doing so, and I would not deny you the pleasure by suggesting that you stop.

But to expect the hostess to serve your dessert is asking too much. Most people don't need one dessert, much less two.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Coin Receptacle Taken At Church

A collection box containing an unknown amount of money was pried off the wall and stolen from the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon or evening, police were told late Monday morning by the Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister.

Rev. Toot timed the theft between 4 and 7 p. m. Sunday. He also discovered Monday morning that a brick had been hurled through a 1-x-7-foot window on the west side of the building, he told officers.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ronald Householder of 601 Henry Ave. told police Monday $13 in change and miscellaneous other items were stolen by thieves who entered her home through the unlocked back door last Thursday.

In addition to the $13 in quarters and pennies, the intruders stole two pairs of pajamas, a baby blanket, under clothing and a ring worth about $7, she said.

In going scoreless the last 33 innings of the 1966 World Series the Dodgers failed to capitalize on 15 hits and 7 walks.

Council Eyes Pay Hike Bill At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — An ordinance providing a salary increase for two employes of the water department was ordered prepared by Council during a meeting Monday night.

At the request of the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, Council authorized preparation for the next meeting Dec. 23 a measure boosting the pay of Supt. Ernest Madison and Assistant Supt. Joseph Weston.

The measure would provide a salary of $440 for Madison, who is now receiving $415, and $400 for Weston, now getting $375.

Members discussed details of a contract with the Village Cable TV Co. for providing service for the community. A meeting is to be set with representatives of the firm for further talks.

A request from Paul Sweeney of E. Main St. for repairs in an alley at his home was referred to the street committee. Cleaning and papering of the Council room at the fire station was discussed, but no action was taken.

A meeting with village employes concerning a proposed insurance program will be held Dec. 21 at 7:30 at the station.

A revision of the appropriation ordinance for 1966 funds was approved. Council accepted the tax rates as set by the Columbiana County Budget Commission. They include 2.8 mills within the 10-mill limitation and 1.5 mills outside.

Farmer's Tax Guide Available At Lisbon

LISBON — The 1967 farmer's tax guide is available at the Columbiana County extension office, 113 S. Market St.

The guide considers changes in the tax law and makes helpful suggestions.

However, the guide was printed before the Investment Credit Law has changed, Pittman pointed out. He advised farmers to contact the Internal Revenue Service office for Document 5050 which contains all the changes in the Investment Credit Law.

Probe Quickens In 7 Slayings In Cincinnati Area

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The investigation of six strangulation slayings picked up momentum today as police probed further into the fatal stabbing of another woman.

Police held Posteal Laskey, 29, a laborer and a former cabdriver, but have not charged him with any of the murders. He has denied knowing anything about them.

Laskey was charged earlier with several minor offenses and was being questioned about the series of slayings.

Police, giving no further comment, called a news conference today.

The murders are the stabbing of Barbara Bowman, 31, and the strangling of six elderly women. The stranglings started Dec. 2, 1965, and have made Cincinnati a city of fear.

All the strangling victims were more than 50 years old. Five had been raped.

Laskey was arrested Friday shortly after Lula Kerrick, 81, was found strangled in the elevator of her apartment house two blocks from police headquarters.

The arrest was not directly concerned with the slaying. Police picked up Laskey on the complaint of a woman who lived near Miss Kerrick and said a man had chased her into her home. A neighbor noted the license number of the man's car.

Late Monday, police obtained a search warrant and took three bags full of undisclosed items from the homes of Laskey's mother and from an apartment he rented four weeks ago.

Miss Bowman, a secretary, was found dying early Aug. 14 near a wrecked taxicab that turned out to have been stolen.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Billy and Santa travel across the seas in a turtle boat. They visit three fabulous islands before they come to the Island of Jewels.

CHAPTER EIGHT

The turtle boat landed on the shores of the island. Santa and Billy stepped out into a garden of jewels.

Emerald trees and diamond bushes and opal flowers bordered the walks of the garden. Sapphires and turquoise glittered in the grass. The precious stones sparkled in the sunlight and tinkled softly in the breeze.

A beautiful pixie came to meet them. She wore a pearl diadem on her head and a jade locket hung from her throat.

—:—

"WELCOME," said the pixie. "I hope you like our garden."

"It is beautiful," said Santa. "But we do not have time to enjoy it."

He told her how Billy must slay Goko the giant because Goko had captured the Fairy Queen and the moon and vowed to capture Santa and rule all of Fairyland.

The pixie was very disturbed because this meant the giant would rule the Isle of Jewels, too. "What can I do?" she moaned.

Santa asked if she would give Billy the Rosanna Ruby. The pixie led them to the ruby grove and pointed to a brilliant stone. "This is the fairest jewel on the isle," she said. "I would gladly give it to you but it cannot be plucked from its branch unless Billy can solve a problem."

"What problem?" asked Billy eagerly.

"An arithmetic problem" said the pixie.

—:—

BILLY sighed. Of all school subjects arithmetic had been the one he hated most. He had never done his lessons at all. He never believed a giant fighter would need arithmetic and spelling and boring things like that.

"What is the problem?" asked Santa.

The Harp Witch had finished the magic necklace.

The pixie said, "Billy has 24 apple pies. Billy eats thirteen. I eat one. You eat two. What is Billy left with?"

Billy got a stick and drew numbers in the dirt. He added and subtracted and crossed things out. He screwed up his face and chewed on his tongue and oh! how he wished he had paid attention at school.

Suddenly he had an answer. He cried, "If I had 24 apple pies and I ate thirteen and you ate one and Santa ate two I would be left with a stomach ache!"

The pixie held her sides and doubled up with laughter. "That's not the answer I had in mind but it will do!" she said and she plucked the ruby from its branch. She placed the stone in Billy's hands and said, "May this jewel help you slay the wicked giant!"

Then Billy and Santa climbed back into the turtle's upside down shell and sailed back across the sea to the land of the Harp Witch.

THE WITCH had not been idle while they were gone. She had made a necklace out of the hairs from her own head woven with the webs of a hundred black widow spiders and the wool from the backs of a thousand caterpillars.

She took the Rosanna Ruby and placed it carefully in the center of the band. It blazed with such flaming beauty it was certain the giant would not be able to resist it.

"But the band is so small," said Billy. "How will it fit around the giant's neck?"

The witch said the necklace would expand or shrink to fit any size and Billy must be careful not to wear it himself or it would work its magic on him.

Billy put it away in his pocket and Santa said he was ready to go fight Goko the giant. But the witch said. "What about all the other giants? Goko's brothers and his cousins and his nephews?" They all live together in Goko's castle."

"W-what about them?" quavered Billy.

"You must destroy them ALL!" cried the witch.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Recently I bought twin beds to replace a double.

To provide blankets for the smaller beds, I simply cut off the sides of all my wool blankets (with a pair of scissors) to fit the new twin beds, and found the wool did not ravel.

With the sewing machine, I doublestitched the comforters along one edge, and also cut them off with the scissors.

It cost me nothing but my time . . . and I couldn't have used the double blankets and comforters anyway!

Thanks for your wonderful money - saving idea, Selma. Sheets and mattress pads may also be utilized by altering them to fit the twin beds.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I know the answer to making dirty dishes disappear: Wash them immediately!

DEAR HELOISE: My 2-year-old couldn't distinguish between her children's phonograph records and required my help in identifying them. I drew a tiny picture on the label of each record that represents the particular song. One might paste small pictures cut from magazines if drawing is too difficult. For instance, a cat could stand for "Pussycat, Pussycat", etc. Now she plays her records all alone.

GAYLE CRANFORD.

DEAR HELOISE: I have [illegible] aluminum-coated asbestos hot pad that I couldn't [illegible] without. (It cost less than $1.)

I often use it as a shield—standing it behind the frying pan on the back burner to keep the wall grease-free.

It also is handy to put over the two front burners that I rarely use (because of the children running by and possibly grabbing a simmering pan). It not only keeps those two burners free from dust and dirt, but also provides extra space for big spoons, basters, etc.

In fact, I have been so pleased with this hot pad that I bought another one same size, and will use the two of them for covering the four burners when not in use. How about that?

I think that's one of the cool-est hot pad ideas yet. Thanks a million, D.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a square of nylon net to wash the soup dish in the tile wall. You should see how it removes the built-up soup.

Works quickly and no soaking is necessary.

I also use this net for washing lavatory basin and bathtub, cleans quickly.

H. K. C.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to dread the night before trash day, straightening a pile of disorderly newspapers and hunting around for string to tie them.

I thought of keeping a large, open grocery bag in the pantry. Now, as the papers are read, I just fold the large ones, leave the compacts as they are, and slip them into the upright bag. They fit perfectly.

When one bag is full, I start another.

It's been a godsend. It's easier for the collector to pick up, too, and they do not blow down the street.

On trash day, all I need do is carry out the bags of neatly folded papers.

No muss—no fuss.

EVELYN SWEENEY

DEAR HELOISE: When you have to pack lunches every morning, and need some hard-boiled eggs to make egg salad sandwiches:

Have soft - boiled eggs for breakfast and cook extra ones hard to use in sandwich spreads.

The hard-boiled eggs will finish cooking while breakfast is being served and this method saves washing an extra pan.

Shooting Scrape Leaves 2 Dead, Another Critical

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two persons are dead and another was in critical condition as the result of a shooting scrape in a Columbus bar early today.

Police identified the dead as Richard Hanrahan, 25, and his wife, Jacqueline. Both lived at separate addresses in Columbus.

Reported in critical condition in Mount Carmel Hospital was Sandra Martin, 21, also of Columbus. She was shot under the arm.

Police said Hanrahan walked into the bar and opened fire on a group of five people, including his wife and the wounded woman.

Mrs. Hanrahan suffered a fatal bullet wound in her head.

Hanrahan then turned toward a bartender, identified by police as Lynn Heegle, 28. Heegle reached below the bar, grabbed a .38 caliber revolver and killed Hanrahan, police said.

State Board Will Be Asked To Speed Funds To Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board will be asked Wednesday to provide early payment of nearly $2 million for school districts feeling the pinch of having to bus 129,456 private and parochial school pupils.

The State Board of Education voted to ask for the funds at its regular monthly meeting Monday after being told that the "Fair Bus Bill," under which the students are being transported, is creating a hardship on many districts.

Martin Essex, state superintendent of public instruction, said the law, which went into effect this year, provides payment of extra costs incurred in the busing, but not until after the actual costs are computed at the end of the school year.

Essex said many districts cannot afford the extra costs and "need their funds to provide the normal instructional services."

Much of the meeting was taken up with discussion of the completed "master plan" for Ohio education, calling for reorganization of the state's 712 school districts on a basis of student populations and not with county or community boundaries.

A motion to adopt a report on the plan and submit it to the 1967 Legislature for action was tabled, meaning the plan will come up for discussion at the January meeting, despite a Jan. 1 deadline for submission.

The vote to table came after board member Elliott Myers of Ironton said he was sure the plan could be submitted after the deadline.

In other action, the board:

—Created a new city school district comprising the former Nelsonville and York Local districts in Athens County.

—Dissolved the Moundbuilders Joint Vocational School District in the Newark area which failed to win voter approval Nov. 8.

—Revoked the teachers certificate of Thomas H. Stubbs of Athens, convicted for petty larceny and breaking and entering.

Six Who Escaped From Jail Held For Grand Jury

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six men who escaped from Allegheny County Jail Nov. 26 were ordered held Monday for grand jury action on eight charges, including holding prison guards hostage.

The six included three Western Penitentiary convicts who six hours earlier were given stiff sentences for contempt of court and staging an abortive prison break attempt from the state penitentiary June. 27, 1965.

The three—Richard Mayberry, 28, Dominic Codispodi, 35, both of Philadelphia, and Herbert F. Lagnes, 26, of Milwaukee, Wis. were given sentences ranging from 26 to 62 years.

The contempt of court citations stemmed from incidents which led Judge Albert Fiok to order two gagged and bound in straitjackets.

Also during the trial, Mayberry, Codispodi, and Lagnes were held in the county jail. They and fellow inmates Charles Ganss, 22, of Cabot, Butler County; Donald Montgomery, 24, of Pittsburgh's suburban Brackenridge, and Manuel Madronal, 34, of the Bronx, New York City, overpowered guards and escaped.

Ohio's Assembly Set To Look At Self, Operations

KENT, Ohio (AP)—One thing the Ohio Legislature will do in its biennial session staring Jan. 2 is take a look at itself and its operations.

And some changes already are in the making, according to House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess.

Kurfess is one of about a dozen legislators from Ohio, Michigan and Indiana who are attending a conference, sponsored by the American Assembly, at Kent State University this week. The conference is studying problems and internal operations of state legislatures.

One issue certain to come before the Ohio Legislature is the question of changing from biennial to annual sessions.

"I have felt for some time that Ohio should have annual sessions and go to annual budgets," the Bowling Green Republican said in an interview.

He indicated that if the system were changed, the alternate annual sessions should consider budgetary matters only.

"Operationally, the Ohio Legislature compares favorably with most states," Kurfess remarked. "One area in which we have neglected ourselves," he added, "is in giving the Legislature—the committees especially—a professional staff."

Steps have been taken already, according to Kurfess, to provide staff help for committee chairmen.

The Legislative Service Commission staff, recently enlarged, will be available to committee chairmen for research work, the new speaker said.

"I think we will be behind some of the larger, more active states, but this is a great step," Kurfess declared.

Enacts Income Tax

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — City council enacted a .75 of one per cent income tax Monday night, 5-2, anticipating it will produce about $148,500 in revenue the first year.

$4,299 Expense Listed In Dickson Campaign Drive

The election of D. Barry Dickson of East Palestine to a county judge seat at the Nov. 8 general election cost $4,299.92, according to three sworn statements of campaign expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

Dickson's personal expense report shows expenditures of $1,376.45. A report from Janet M. Seagle of 505 E. Grant St., East Palestine, as chairman of the Dickson for Judge Committee, reports expenditures of $2,031.05. The same woman filed a separate report as secretary-treasurer of the Judiciary Improvement Committee, listing expenses of $892.42. An East Palestine attorney, Dickson was named on the nonpartisan judicial ticket.

Meanwhile, two more reports showed a total of $1,744 was spent in the campaign in which State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of near Lisbon, a Republican, won a new term.

The Wetzel for Representative Committee spent $1,744, according to a report filed by Clyde M. Wilson of Lisbon, chairman. Wetzel filed a separate report showing expenses of $1,244. But the $1,244 was turned over to the Wetzel for Representative Committee, the report said.

Dec. 23 is the deadline for the reports. They are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Jim Gillick, 235-pound tackle for Wagner College's football team, lists cooking and sewing as two of his hobbies.

Mr. Mitchell is one of our "storekeepers." Like all of them, he knows that people come to the money store to save money or to borrow it. Either reason, he's happy to see you because we're in business to say yes. If you don't believe it, just put us to the test. Come in, tell us how much you need and what you can afford to pay back each month. For example, if you borrow $1600 you pay back only $60.09 a month. It's as easy as that and it should be—because the money store's job is to make borrowing money and paying it back easier for you. How much do you need to meet tomorrow? And what time today do you want your money? Just tell Mr. Mitchell or any of our "storekeepers." He'll get out his yes stamp and put on his smile.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Dr. Seuss May Forgive Hollywood

Dr. Seuss swore off Hollywood years and years ago, but now he is back with a character named Grinch, who is to star in a half-hour special on CBS-TV next Sunday at 7 p. m.

Hal Humphrey

If you are not acquainted with Dr. Seuss and the Grinch or Thidwick or Horton, that's probably because you haven't raised any children in the past 20 years.

-:-

DOTING PARENTS usually buy Dr. Seuss books for their offspring soon after Dr. Benjamin Spock has guided them safely through their first 100 colds, the chickenpox and a whack on the behind for saying a naughty word.

The reason Dr. Seuss—or Ted Geisel, as his wife and friends know him—doesn't like Hollywood is because almost everyone spends a lot of money to do things cheaply and in a hurry. He would much rather stay in his pink castle on a hill overlooking La Jolla, Calif., and write and draw for his books.

A few months ago Chuck Jones, who heads MGM's animation-visual arts division, talked the studio into talking to Dr. Seuss about bringing some of the latter's books to TV in animated form. Jones had more trouble getting Dr. Seuss to talk to him.

"Maybe you think I can't draw your characters," Jones said to Dr. Seuss in a challenging letter and enclosed with it a drawing he'd made of one of Dr. Seuss' famous cats.

IT WASN'T that Dr. Suess didn't trust Jones. They had worked together during World War II under producer Frank Capra who commanded a group of Hollywood talents attached to the Signal Corps at "Ft. Fox" (20th Century-Fox). Jones and Dr. Seuss created a character known as "Snafu" for use in animated training films.

What Dr. Seuss wanted to be assured of before signing on for any TV venture was that his characters would not be put on an assembly line for the quickie kind of production turned out for weekly cartoon shows on TV, a technique which causes revulsion in Dr. Seuss, a meticulous craftsman.

Jones and MGM promised Dr. Seuss there'd be no limit on the quality of the animation of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," which is the Dr. Seuss book being adapted for the Dec. 18 show on CBS-TV.

-:-

AS A RESULT of this premium on quality, the Grinch cartoon has become the most expensive half hour ever put on TV. The price paid by the network for this initial airing and one more in 1967 is $315,000.

On a per-minute basis, Jones likes to think it may even be more expensive than ABC's recent purchase of "Bridge on the River Kwai" at $2 million.

Some 25,000 individual drawings have been made in animating "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," instead of the 2,000 or so done for the average half-hour "Flintstones" or "Huckleberry Hound" cartoon.

Original music has been composed by Albert Hague (Dr. Seuss did the lyrics) and played by a 34-piece orchestra with a 12-voice choir.

RATHER THAN RISK disappointing the fans with their own exact notions of how a Grinch or Cindy-Lou or a "Who" would sound, Jones and Dr. Seuss cast Boris Karloff to narrate the story.

In his best grandfatherly style, Karloff from time to time will dramatically take on the voices of the Grinch and Cindy-Lou, and who is to doubt that a man so akin to the metaphysical world as Karloff knows what a Grinch's voice is like?

It has been nearly 10 months since Jones and Dr. Seuss first sat down with the MGM staff to show TV viewers "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." That answers those fans who want to know how often Dr. Seuss will parade his fantastical characters across their TV screen.

An average of six months would be required, were he to do them on a regular schedule.

-:-

NEGOTIATIONS are on, Dr. Seuss says, for a TV version of another of his books, "Horton Hears a Who," but that will depend on the success of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" and whether Dr. Seuss can stand to be away from his pink castle in La Jolla that long.

Anyway, it's encouraging to find TV interested in Dr. Seuss and his friends. As one critic says, "At last TV is beginning to scrape the top of the barrel."

Hancock Board Opens Bids On School Buses

Several bids for school bus chassis and bodies were opened during the meeting of the Hancock County Board of Education Monday night at the board offices in New Cumberland.

Submitting bids on chassis were the Twin State Motors Co. of Steubenville, $4,400, and the Cattrell Motor Co. of Weirton, $3,865.

Four companies submitted bids on school bus bodies as follows: Ateco Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh, $3,850; Central Body and Equipment Co. of Clarksburg, $3,780; Myers Equipment Co. of Canfield, $3,664, and Superior Coach Sales Co. of Powhatan Point, $3,553.80.

All bids were tabled for future consideration.

The board approved the transfer of $30,000 to the equipment fund for the purchase of typewriters and other equipment.

Dr. Eli Weller of Weirton, who will be installed as a member of the board in January, questioned the need of the immediate purchase of these supplies and suggested that the market be studied for possible savings before any purchases are made.

The board agreed to study the needs carefully before advertising for any bids on the equipment.

Mrs. Gertrude Carson of Newell was hired as an instructional aide for the Jefferson School in Newell.

The Weir High School Band was authorized to participate in the Region I solo and ensemble contest Feb. 11 at West Liberty State College and the regional band festival April 21 in Wheeling.

Hearing Set On 4 Charges

A hearing will be tonight in Harrison County Court at Cadiz for Clifford Dale Slusher, 18, of Freeport, who is being held on four charges stemming from a collision Saturday between his truck and a State Highway Patrol cruiser.

Slusher was charged by Patrolman Dennis Yingling of the Wintersville patrol with driving the wrong way on a divided highway, having no driver's license, driving while intoxicated and resisting arrest.

Yingling reported he followed Slusher for two or three miles on U.S. Route 22 with the cruiser's siren wailing and its red-light blinking. After the youth allegedly ignored the devices, Ptl. Yingling overtook him and attempted to slow Slusher's truck.

The youth then entered the medial strip, where he lost control of his 1950 pickup truck, which skidded. The truck then stopped partially on the roadway, and as Yingling backed to the spot where the vehicle was halted, Slusher started the truck and headed west in an eastbound lane, striking the patrol car and continuing on.

The Patrol said Slusher's truck later stalled and he drifted into a guardrail after misjudging an exit ramp.

Officer Yingling was not injured. Slusher complained of back pain, but was not treated.

Harrison County deputies said the youth was being held in lieu of $200 bond on one of the counts. He also is being held on a suspended 10-day jail sentence ordered by Judge William Spiker earlier on a charge of assault and battery.

Forms Ordered For Reciprocity Under Tax Laws

Job printers have been asked to provide a new supply of forms for the East Liverpool city income tax office as a result of a new reciprocal credit clause written into the law, effective Jan. 1, with enactment of legislation by Council Saturday evening.

The legislation establishes reciprocity between East Liverpool and out-of-state communities to aid persons subject to two taxes — one levied by the city or state in which they live and another where they work.

The measure is designed particularly to help East Liverpool and Midland residents.

Both East Liverpool and Midland levy taxes of eight-tenths of 1 per cent, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson explained today.

This means that an East Liverpool and Midland resident will pay the full tax of eight-tenths of 1 per cent in the communities in which they live, but nothing in the cities in which they work. East Liverpool residents working in Midland have been paying eight-tenths of 1 per cent at Midland and four-tenths of 1 per cent in East Liverpool.

The new law also will have the effect of reducing to four-tenths of 1 per cent the tax against West Virginia residents working in East Liverpool, Wilkinson said.

Feed Grain Program Details For '67 Reviewed By Bates

LISBON — A farmer's best assurance of getting good returns from his feed grain crops is to take part in the 1967 feed grain program, according to J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

He furnishes the following information:

Program provisions for next year encourage the planting of a larger acreage of feed grains. Corn and grain sorghum are again included in the 1967 program, but barley is not. So a program participant will be able to produce more of the feed grains in 1967 and at the same time his crop income will be protected by the price-support loans and payments available only to participants.

A widespread participation in the program will result in feed grain supplies which are in balance with demand, thus serving to stabilize both market supplies and prices and to avoid building up a surplus.

Farmers will be able to qualify for price - support loans and payments on their 1967 corn and grain sorghum crops by signing up to take part in the 1967 feed grain program and then diverting 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain base and meeting other general program provisions.

Growers on small farms (those with feed grain bases of 25 acres or less) will be eligible also for diversion payments equivalent to 20 per cent of the total county support (loan plus price -support payment) for the first 20 per cent of the base acreage diverted and 50 per cent of the support on any additional acres diverted, up to the total base.

The 1967 loan rate on corn will be $1.05 per bushel, national average, and the price support payment rate, 30 cents per bushel on the projected yield of the acres planted up to 50 per cent of the base acreage.

For grain sorghum, the local rate will be $1.61 per hundredweight, national average, and the price support payment will be 53 cents, figured the same as for corn.

Bates said the signup for the 1967 feed grain program will begin early next year.

The earth travels about 1,100 miles a minute.

Review Sports Editor

Carl Natalina, a three-year varsity award winner, became the 29th recipient of the Bill Booth Hi-Y Memorial Trophy, the highest award for an East Liverpool High School gridder, during the annual banquet Monday night honoring the 1966 Potter football team.

Some 250 attended the event at St. Aloysius school as Natalina and six teammates received awards for their achievements on the gridiron.

THE BANQUET also helped celebrate East Liverpool High's 9-1 record, the most successful mark since the 1955 season

The 175-pound Natalina, who played various positions in his three years as a Potter regular, performed at offensive tackle and defensive halfback throughout the 1966 campaign. He was named to the honorable mention list on the All-Eastern District and was co-captain of the Potters.

Clarence Crable was the winner of the 1965 award. Carl A. (Pop) Werner, general secretary of the YMCA, presented the Booth trophy.

NATALINA also received an award as the outstanding offensive lineman and a plaque from the coaching staff for his outstanding contribution to the team in the last three years.

Darryl Herring, the Potters' fleet halfback who was one of the top ground gainers and an outstanding blocker, received two high awards, being named the most valuable player of 1966 and the best offensive back. Herring was an all-district selection and was named on the All-Ohio honorable mention list. The MVP award was presented by The Review.

Other awards included those to Bill Carter, outstanding defensive back, all - state Charles Harris, leading defensive lineman, and Emanuel Volino, top linebacker.

Linebacker Dan Bekar and tackle Gary Arrington tied as the most improved players on the squad.

THE OUTSTANDING player trophies were presented by Head Coach Bob McNea. They were purchased by the Nonpareil Club.

Varsity and reserve awards were presented by McNea and members of the coaching staff, including Jim Potts, Jim Render, Frank Moss and Joe Mowad.

Seventeen seniors, eight juniors and two sophomores received varsity letters. The seniors included Arrington, Bekar, Carter, Harris, Herring, Natalina, Volino, Omar Hargreaves, Don Herron, Phil Hoschar, Daryl Jackson, Bill Oliver, Terry Pack, Denny Smith, Luther Stoddard, Robert Tolson and Jim Gooding.

—:—

GOODING did not play all season, sustaining an injury in practice before the schedule began, but was awarded a letter regardless. McNea also pointed out he was the leading student on the team with a perfect 4.0 scholastic average.

Juniors receiving awards were Bill Hopper, Mike McVay, Bruce Christian, Earl Diddle, Mike Jackson, Bob Jones, Bill Jones and Rich Rowley.

Jim Musuraca and Stanley Ice were the only sophomore to receive varsity letters.

Reserve awards were presented to juniors Jim Bess, Rex Campbell, Mike DiPasquale, Roddey Dorsey, John Frederick, Bob Moore, Sam Scott, John Stepien, Leonard Yanni and Don Talbott.

Manager letters went to Jim Lightfoot, Joe Marrelli, Vince Caparuolo, Phil McCoy, Greg Davis, Joel Seibert and Dave Lockhart.

—:—

VARSITY cheerleaders introduced by Mrs. Carol Parsons were Barbara Rohrer, captain, Linda Crooks, Cathy Duffy, Susie Greenwood, Debbie Emmerling and Jane DeLong. Reserve cheerleaders included Lina Alexander, captain, Bridget Tobin, Marcy Jackson, Susie Williams, Vicky James, Louis McHenry and Debbie Banfield.

There was no guest speaker for the affair, but McNea offered remarks and congratulated the team for an outstanding season. "It was a tremendous year for me and the coaching staff, and we played a more difficult schedule than in the past," McNea said.

"FOOTBALL is a tough, demanding sport and a great sport. It is one which develops boys through hard work, sacrifice and perserverance," he added.

McNea was introduced by Ralph A. Finley, who served as toastmaster. Each member of the team received a plate which showed a picture of the coaching staff. They were purchased by the banquet committee. The Student Boosters Club donated glasses containing the 1966 schedule to each player.

The banquet was sponsored by a committee headed by Steve Chema and Bob Curran, co-chairmen.

Jets, Giants Could Hold Key In Eastern Division

By DICK COUCH

New York's pro football buffs, who counted themselves out of the American and National league title races weeks ago, can count themselves back in this weekend.

Although the Jets are going nowhere and the Giants have been there for sometime, each club may hold the key to its league's Eastern Division championship maze.

The Jets, whose hopes for an unprecedented winning season evaporated at San Diego last Sunday, take on the Boston Patriots, pace-setters in the AFL's Eastern race, at Shea Stadium Saturday. The Pats need either a victory or tie to lock up the division crown.

The Giants, most scored-upon club in NFL history, wind up their losingest season over Sunday when they entertain the explosive Dallas Cowboys at Yankee Stadium. The Cowboys can wrap up the Eastern Conference title before they take the field if Cleveland beats second-place St. Louis Saturday.

But a Cardinal victory would give the fallen Giants a shot at sidetracking Dallas' title express. The Cowboys then would have to either beat or tie New York to clinch their first division championship since they entered the NFL six years ago.

The Cowboys, with the highest scoring offense in the league, rate three-touchdown favorites over New York, which has yielded a record 484 points in sliding to a 1-11-1 season mark.

The Jets, 5-6-2, are six-point underdogs against the Patriots, 8-3-2, who have dropped only one of their last 10 starts.

The Patriots, who lead Buffalo's defending AFL champs by one-half game in the Eastern stretch race, expect Gino Cappelletti, the league's scoring leader, to be ready for full-time duty. Cappelletti nursed a bruised thigh through last Sunday's 38-14 victory at Houston.

Dallas, the NFL's Eastern crown within its grasp last Sunday, bowed to Washington 34-31. Quarterback Don Meredith, injured in the second period against the Redskins, should be ready to call signals against the Giants, who were drubbed by Pittsburgh 47-28 last Sunday.

Elsewhere Sunday, Green Bay's Western Division kings visit Los Angeles, Baltimore is at San Francisco, Minnesota at Chicago, Philadelphia at Washington and Pittsburgh at Atlanta in NFL play; Denver at Buffalo, Houston at Miami and Kansas City, the Western Division champion, at San Diego in the AFL.

Torres Is Quite Confident In Fight With Tiger

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Jose Torres doesn't defend his light heavyweight championship against Dick Tiger until Friday, but already Torres is talking about meeting Cassius Clay.

"I'm real serious about going after Clay," Torres said Monday here at his training headquarters for the Madison Square Garden fight.

"If I can knock out Tiger that will help me both for the Fighter of the Year award and for a shot at Clay."

This business of knocking out Tiger, the former champion, is no small matter, though. In 71 fights, nobody has knocked out the Nigerian.

Torres, at 30, is seven years younger than Tiger and is a 3-1 favorite to win his fourth title defense of the year.

Stanton, United Grid Stars On All-Ohio Class A Squad

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Class A champion Marion Catholic landed two players on the 1966 Associated Press All-Ohio football team as the small school scholastic stars won statewide recognition.

Dennis Kapcar, Marion's stellar tackle, and Tim Grady, a fine quarterback who made the team as a linebacker, were the Irish players selected capping a brilliant season for Coach Max Ross' gridders.

Two district gridders were honored on the first team of the Class A All-Ohio squad. Stanton Local's outstanding end Ed Crawford was named to the first team offense at end while United Local's Dick Shultz was named to a tackle berth on the first team defensive unit.

Three other Stanton gridders were named to the honorable mention list. They included backs Joe Wickham and Jack Hale and tackle Bill Koehnlein.

Portsmouth Notre Dame's versatile halfback, Terry Miller, was the only repeater from last year's squad. He made it as a defensive back in 1965 but was named to the offensive backfield this year.

District boards, composed of sports writers and sportscasters from throughout Ohio, helped choose the club.

The fast, powerful backfield that accounted for 76 touchdowns includes Paul (Rocky) Alt of Crestline at quarterback and Roger Davidson of Kent State high and Bob White of South Central in the running spots along with Miller.

Alt, who edged out Mike Sensibaugh of Cincinnati Lockland, tossed 14 touchdown passes while completing 106 of 199 aerials for 1,518 yards.

Davidson tallied 21 times and chalked up 1,373 yards while White scored 16 touchdowns and rushed for 1,242 yards.

Miller, injured in two games, blasted for 925 yards in his seven starts, an average of 11.3 yards each time he carried, and scored 126 points. The 185-pound senior already has offers from Notre Dame and Ohio State.

Outstanding linebacker Mike Von Stein of Cory - Rawson moved up to the first team after winning a spot on the second unit a year ago.

There was heavy competition for backfield honors and Jim O'Hara of Ottawa Hills, Ray Cox of Unioto and Ed Lynch of Millersport were among those who just missed making the first team.

Among the defensive standouts are back Harry Owen of Berlin Center Western Reserve; tackle Dick Shultz of United Local; back Jim Groff of Versailles and two-way performer Earl Willson of Piketon, another back.

Baseball Given Freedom To Move

Supreme Court Declines To Review Braves Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized baseball apparently has the freedom to move its teams from city to city without fear of violating antitrust laws.

The Supreme Court declined Monday to review a Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling that organized baseball is immune to the state's antitrust law.

The state of Wisconsin fought to retain the National League Braves, who moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta last season.

Baseball has been immune from antitrust prosecution under federal laws for 44 years. The high court's action Monday assures it the same immunity from state antitrust laws.

By refusing to consider the Wisconsin case, the court left baseball free either to limit or expand the number of teams and to choose the cities that will have them.

The Braves' initial move — from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953 — touched off a wave of franchise shifting and expansion which has not stopped. The St. Louis Browns moved to Baltimore, the New York Giants to San Francisco, the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City and the Washington Senators to Minnesota.

New franchises were granted in the American League to Los Angeles and Washington, and in the National League to Houston and New York. The Los Angeles Angels have since moved to Anaheim, Calif.

In Madison, Wis., however, state Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette said the state is considering asking the Supreme Court for a rehearing.

And in Milwaukee, Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., said he would reintroduce legislation to strip organized baseball of its federal antitrust exemption. His similar bill died in committee in the 89th Congress.

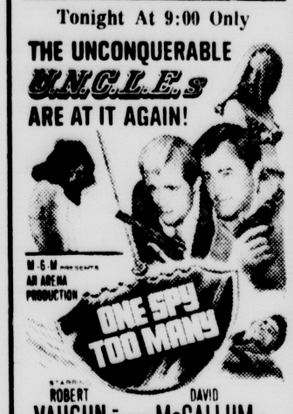

The high court has heard cases for the second time only on rare occasions.

In saying Wisconsin might ask the Supreme Court for a second chance, La Follette noted that the state's plea had fallen only one vote short of the necessary backing to win a review of the case.

At least four of the nine justices must agree to bring a case before the Supreme Court for argument.

Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. said they would have heard the case. Justice Abe Fortas noted he took no part in the consideration or decision.

Wisconsin had asked the high court to review and reverse the 4-3 decision of the State's Supreme Court which ruled July 27 that organized baseball was immune from Wisconsin's antitrust law.

UCLA Stays 1st Among Cage Teams

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There is no threat this week to UCLA's standing as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll because the powerful Bruins are not scheduled. Second-ranked Texas Western and fourth-rated Kentucky, though, seem to have difficult tasks ahead.

Texas Western meets fifth-ranked New Mexico Friday while Kentucky faces sixth-ranked North Carolina Tuesday.

UCLA was a unanimous choice in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. The Bruins were placed in the top position by all 36 selectors on the national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bruins, 3-0, defeated Duke twice last week, 88-54 Friday and 107-87 Saturday. The No. 1 team does not play again until Dec. 22 when it takes on Colorado State.

Texas Western, 5-0, held second place after defeating East Texas, Pan American and Southern Methodist.

Louisville switched places with Kentucky, the Cardinals moving to third and the Wildcats slipping to fourth. Louisville beat Southwestern Louisiana and Southern Illinois while Kentucky lost to Illinois in overtime and came back to down Northwestern.

New Mexico, winner over Loyola of LOS Angeles and texas Tech, advanced one place to fifth.

North Carolina, Brigham Young, Michigan State Houston and Cincinnati complete the first ten in that order.

Michigan State, 4-0 including victories last week over South Dakota and Wichita State, is the only new team in the rankings. The Spartans replaced Duke, which has lost three of four games.

Houston, only member of the Top Ten to play Monday night, shrugged off four technical fouls and buried visiting St Mary's, Calif., 90-74 for its fifth victory in six starts.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis:

1.	UCLA (36)	360
2.	Texas Western	316
3.	Louisville	207
4.	Kentucky	149
5.	New Mexico	137
6.	North Carolina	134
7.	Brigham Young	125
8.	Michigan St.	108
9.	Houston	63
10.	Cincinnati	57

Browns Coach Helped Irish With Passing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Part of Notre Dame's passing attack can be credited to Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier, Irish Coach Ara Parseghian said Monday night at the Cleveland Touchdown Club's banquet.

Parseghian, featured speaker, said he contacted Collier last spring. "We felt we had a good passer and receiver coming up so I came to Cleveland and talked to Collier about passing," Parseghian said.

Parseghian said he knew Collier had developed quarterback Frank Ryan and flanker Paul Warfield. "I learned a lot from him," the Notre Dame skipper said. The information received from Collier helped Parseghian work with quarterback Terry Hanratty and end Jim Seymour, both sophomores.

Parseghian led the Irish to the national collegiate championship this season.

BG Coach ? Officials

Falcons Drop 1st To Niagara Quint

Something had to give when Bowling Green and Niagara matched unbeaten records on the basketball court at Niagara Falls Monday night.

"Something" turned out to be the officials, in the estimation of Coach Porky Scholler of the Ohio team.

Scholler, watching the arbiters call 20 fouls on Bowling Green and just 11 on Niagara, felt they were giving his Falcons the business and giving the Purple Eagles the ball game.

Eventually, he disputed a referee's call and was assessed a technical foul for good measure.

The result, with Niagara sinking 18 of 25 free throws while Bowling Green got just 5 of 10, was Niagara 68, Bowling Green 57.

The Eagles, with Emmanuel Leaks of Cleveland at center, rambled to a 38-23 halftime lead. Al Hairston's eight-point spurt pulled the BeeGees to within 43-36 — at which point the technical was called on their coach and the rally's momentum died.

This was Niagara's fourth straight victory while Bowling Green, with ace Walt Piatkowski limited to eight points, incurred its first loss in five decisions.

In other Ohio college play:

Xavier matched BG's 4-1 record by creaming Tampa 87-39 in Cincinnati behind Bob Quick's 24 points.

Youngstown moved to 3-1 by turning back Texas Southern 83-75.

Baldwin-Wallace challenged Loyola of Chicago through much of the first half but finally became the undefeated Ramblers' fourth victim 105-80.

Wilberforce walloped Walsh 83-49.

Koufax's Final Season Was Best Of 12 Years

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Sandy Koufax left the game of baseball in style making his last season the best of his fabulous 12-year career.

The 30-year-old lefthander led the league in six categories, according to official National League statistics, and was tied for first in two others. He also set two major league records and one National League record.

Koufax finished the season with an earned run average of 1.73--leading the league for the fifth year in a row. Grover Cleveland Alexander, the National League ace of the 1920s, also led the circuit five times, but not in successive years.

Sandy set another major league season record by striking out 317 batters—the third time in a row he had passed the 300 mark. His 27-9 record represents the first time any National League lefthander has won that many games in one season.

Jim Bunning of Philadelphia and Koufax both started 41 games, but Sandy completed 27 of these to Bunnings' 16, and worked more innings (323) and pitched to more batters (1,274) than any other National League pitcher in 1966.

Bunning was second, facing 1,254 batters in 314 innings, and came in fourth in the ERA sweepstakes with a 2.41. The leader was Houston's Mike Cuellar, 2.22.

Veteran Linebacker Fiss To Retire From Football

CLEVELAND (AP)— Galen Fiss, veteran linebacker and captain of the Cleveland Browns the past four seasons, has decided to call it quits.

"Joining the Browns was the greatest thing that ever happened to me and my family," the former University of Kansas fullback said Monday.

Fiss was a regular in his rookie year (1956) after being drafted 11th in 1953.

He said he would retire Saturday if the Browns lose in St. Louis or Jan. 8 if the Browns make it to the National Football League playoff bowl in Miami.

Fiss said the 1966 season has "been disappointing in a couple of ways.

"First, of course, I'm disappointed because we didn't win the title.

"We started with such high hopes," he added. "We've been up there enough to feel we belong there. Then there is my own situation. When I signed my contract I wasn't planning to be a swing linebacker. That's the way it worked out, though."

Fiss filled in occasionally and played on speciality teams, such as kick offs and punts.

The Browns moved Johnny Brewer, a tight end last season, into Fiss' left side linebacker spot when the team started its exhibition schedule.

"I'll tell you one thing," Fiss said. "I certainly have gained new admiration for all the fellows on these (speciality) teams. It's tough sitting on the bench. I know that anyone on a pro football squad wants to be a regular."

The Browns, (8-5) defending Eastern Conference champs, can make the playoff bowl only if they beat St. Louis Sunday and Philadelphia loses to Washington.

Dr. Seuss May Forgive Hollywood

Dr. Seuss swore off Hollywood years and years ago, but now he is back with a character named Grinch, who is to star in a half-hour special on CBS-TV next Sunday at 7 p. m.

Hal Humphrey

If you are not acquainted with Dr. Seuss and the Grinch or Thidwick or Horton, that's probably because you haven't raised any children in the past 20 years.

-:-

DOTING PARENTS usually buy Dr. Seuss books for their offspring soon after Dr. Benjamin Spock has guided them safely through their first 100 colds, the chickenpox and a whack on the behind for saying a naughty word.

The reason Dr. Seuss—or Ted Geisel, as his wife and friends know him—doesn't like Hollywood is because almost everyone spends a lot of money to do things cheaply and in a hurry. He would much rather stay in his pink castle on a hill overlooking La Jolla, Calif., and write and draw for his books.

A few months ago Chuck Jones, who heads MGM's animation-visual arts division, talked the studio into talking to Dr. Seuss about bringing some of the latter's books to TV in animated form. Jones had more trouble getting Dr. Seuss to talk to him.

"Maybe you think I can't draw your characters," Jones said to Dr. Seuss in a challenging letter and enclosed with it a drawing he'd made of one of Dr. Seuss' famous cats.

IT WASN'T that Dr. Suess didn't trust Jones. They had worked together during World War II under producer Frank Capra who commanded a group of Hollywood talents attached to the Signal Corps at "Ft. Fox" (20th Century-Fox). Jones and Dr. Seuss created a character known as "Snafu" for use in animated training films.

What Dr. Seuss wanted to be assured of before signing on for any TV venture was that his characters would not be put on an assembly line for the quickie kind of production turned out for weekly cartoon shows on TV, a technique which causes revulsion in Dr. Seuss, a meticulous craftsman.

Jones and MGM promised Dr. Seuss there'd be no limit on the quality of the animation of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," which is the Dr. Seuss book being adapted for the Dec. 18 show on CBS-TV.

AS A RESULT of this premium on quality, the Grinch cartoon has become the most expensive half hour ever put on TV. The price paid by the network for this initial airing and one more in 1967 is $315,000.

On a per-minute basis, Jones likes to think it may even be more expensive than ABC's recent purchase of "Bridge on the River Kwai" at $2 million.

Some 25,000 individual drawings have been made in animating "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," instead of the 2,000 or so done for the average half-hour "Flintstones" or "Huckleberry Hound" cartoon.

Original music has been composed by Albert Hague (Dr. Seuss did the lyrics) and played by a 34-piece orchestra with a 12-voice choir.

RATHER THAN RISK disappointing the fans with their own exact notions of how a Grinch or Cindy-Lou or a "Who" would sound, Jones and Dr. Seuss cast Boris Karloff to narrate the story.

In his best grandfatherly style, Karloff from time to time will dramatically take on the voices of the Grinch and Cindy-Lou, and who is to doubt that a man so akin to the metaphysical world as Karloff knows what a Grinch's voice is like?

It has been nearly 10 months since Jones and Dr. Seuss first sat down with the MGM staff to show TV viewers "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." That answers those fans who want to know how often Dr. Seuss will parade his fantastical characters across their TV screen.

An average of six months would be required, were he to do them on a regular schedule.

-:-

NEGOTIATIONS are on, Dr. Seuss says, for a TV version of another of his books, "Horton Hears a Who," but that will depend on the success of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" and whether Dr. Seuss can stand to be away from his pink castle in La Jolla that long.

Anyway, it's encouraging to find TV interested in Dr. Seuss and his friends. As one critic says, "At last TV is beginning to scrape the top of the barrel."

Screen Guild, Studios Agree On New Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Screen Writers Guild of America and Los Angeles movie studios reached agreement Monday night on a new contract, thus averting a threatened midnight strike.

An offer by management was ratified shortly before the deadline at a Guild meeting at the Century Plaza Hotel. Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Hancock Board Opens Bids On School Buses

Several bids for school bus chassis and bodies were opened during the meeting of the Hancock County Board of Education Monday night at the board offices in New Cumberland.

Submitting bids on chassis were the Twin State Motors Co. of Steubenville, $4,400, and the Cattrell Motor Co. of Weirton, $2,865.

Four companies submitted bids on school bus bodies as follows: Ateco Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh, $3,859; Central Body and Equipment Co. of Clarksburg, $3,780; Myers Equipment Co. of Canfield, $3,664, and Superior Coach Sales Co. of Powhatan Point, $3,553.80.

All bids were tabled for future consideration.

The board approved the transfer of $30,000 to the equipment fund for the purchase of typewriters and other equipment.

Dr. Eli Weiler of Weirton, who will be installed as a member of the board in January, questioned the need of the immediate purchase of these supplies and suggested that the market be studied for possible savings before any purchases are made.

The board agreed to study the needs carefully before advertising for any bids on the equipment.

Mrs. Gertrude Carson of Newell was hired as an instructional aide for the Jefferson School in Newell.

The Weir High School Band was authorized to participate in the Region I solo and ensemble contest Feb. 11 at West Liberty State College and the regional band festival April 21 in Wheeling.

Hearing Set On 4 Charges

A hearing will be tonight in Harrison County Court at Cadiz for Clifford Dale Slusher, 18, of Freeport, who is being held on four charges stemming from a collision Saturday between his truck and a State Highway Patrol cruiser.

Slusher was charged by Patrolman Dennis Yingling of the Wintersville patrol with driving the wrong way on a divided highway, having no driver's license, driving while intoxicated and resisting arrest.

Yingling reported he followed Slusher for two or three miles on U.S. Route 22 with the cruiser's siren wailing and its red-light blinking. After the youth allegedly ignored the devices, Ptl. Yingling overtook him and attempted to slow Slusher's truck.

The youth then entered the medial strip, where he lost control of his 1950 pickup truck, which skidded. The truck then stopped partially on the roadway, and as Yingling backed to the spot where the vehicle was halted, Slusher started the truck and headed west in an eastbound lane, striking the patrol car and continuing on.

The Patrol said Slusher's truck later stalled and he drifted into a guardrail after misjudging an exit ramp.

Officer Yingling was not injured. Slusher complained of back pain, but was not treated.

Harrison County deputies said the youth was being held in lieu of $200 bond on one of the counts. He also is being held on a suspended 10-day jail sentence ordered by Judge William Spiker earlier on a charge of assault and battery.

Forms Ordered For Reciprocity Under Tax Laws

Job printers have been asked to provide a new supply of forms for the East Liverpool city income tax office as a result of a new reciprocal credit clause written into the law, effective Jan. 1, with enactment of legislation by Council Saturday evening.

The legislation establishes reciprocity between East Liverpool and out-of-state communities to aid persons subject to two taxes — one levied by the city or state in which they live and another where they work.

The measure is designed particularly to help East Liverpool and Midland residents.

Both East Liverpool and Midland levy taxes of eight-tenths of 1 per cent, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson explained today.

This means that an East Liverpool and Midland resident will pay the full tax of eight-tenths of 1 per cent in the communities in which they live, but nothing in the cities in which they work. East Liverpool residents working in Midland have been paying eight-tenths of 1 per cent at Midland and four-tenths of 1 per cent in East Liverpool.

The new law also will have the effect of reducing to four-tenths of 1 per cent the tax against West Virginia residents working in East Liverpool, Wilkinson said.

Feed Grain Program Details For '67 Reviewed By Bates

LISBON — A farmer's best assurance of getting good returns from his feed grain crops is to take part in the 1967 feed grain program, according to J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

He furnishes the following information:

Program provisions for next year encourage the planting of a larger acreage of feed grains. Corn and grain sorghum are again included in the 1967 program, but barley is not. So a program participant will be able to produce more of the feed grains in 1967 and at the same time his crop income will be protected by the price-support loans and payments available only to participants.

A widespread participation in the program will result in feed grain supplies which are in balance with demand, thus serving to stabilize both market supplies and prices and to avoid building up a surplus.

Farmers will be able to qualify for price - support loans and payments on their 1967 corn and grain sorghum crops by signing up to take part in the 1967 feed grain program and then diverting 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain base and meeting other general program provisions.

Growers on small farms (those with feed grain bases of 25 acres or less) will be eligible also for diversion payments equivalent to 20 per cent of the total county support (loan plus price -support payment) for the first 20 per cent of the base acreage diverted and 50 per cent of the support on any additional acres diverted, up to the total base.

The 1967 loan rate on corn will be $1.05 per bushel, national average, and the price support payment rate, 30 cents per bushel on the projected yield of the acres planted up to 50 per cent of the base acreage.

For grain sorghum, the local rate will be $1.61 per hundredweight, national average, and the price support payment will be 53 cents, figured the same as for corn.

Bates said the signup for the 1967 feed grain program will begin early next year.

The earth travels about 1,100 miles a minute.

Natalina Is Voted 29th Winner Of Bill Booth Award

Herring Is MVP; 5 Others Honored

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Carl Natalina, a three-year varsity award winner, became the 29th recipient of the Bill Booth Hi-Y Memorial Trophy, the highest award for an East Liverpool High School gridder, during the annual banquet Monday night honoring the 1966 Potter football team.

Some 250 attended the event at St. Aloysius school as Natalina and six teammates received awards for their achievements on the gridiron.

THE BANQUET also helped celebrate East Liverpool High's 9-1 record, the most successful mark since the 1955 season.

The 175-pound Natalina, who played various positions in his three years as a Potter regular, performed at offensive tackle and defensive halfback throughout the 1966 campaign. He was named to the honorable mention list on the All-Eastern District and was co-captain of the Potters.

Clarence Crable was the winner of the 1965 award. Carl A. (Pop) Werner, general secretary of the YMCA, presented the Booth trophy.

NATALINA also received an award as the outstanding offensive lineman and a plaque from the coaching staff for his outstanding contribution to the team in the last three years.

Darryl Herring, the Potters' fleet halfback who was one of the top ground gainers and an outstanding blocker, received two high awards, being named the most valuable player of 1966 and the best offensive back. Herring was an all-district selection and was named on the All-Ohio honorable mention list. The MVP award was presented by The Review.

Other awards included those to Bill Carter, outstanding defensive back, all - state Charles Harris, leading defensive lineman, and Emanuel Volino, top linebacker.

Linebacker Dan Bekar and tackle Gary Arrington tied as the most improved players on the squad.

—:—

THE OUTSTANDING player trophies were presented by Head Coach Bob McNea. They were purchased by the Nonpareil Club.

Varsity and reserve awards were presented by McNea and members of the coaching staff, including Jim Potts, Jim Render, Frank Moss and Joe Mowad.

Seventeen seniors, eight juniors and two sophomores received varsity letters. The seniors included Arrington, Bekar, Carter, Harris, Herring, Natalina, Volino, Omar Hargreaves, Don Herron, Phil Hoschar, Daryl Jackson, Bill Oliver, Terry Pack, Denny Smith, Luther Stoddard, Robert Tolson and Jim Gooding.

—:—

GOODING did not play all season, sustaining an injury in practice before the schedule began, but was awarded a letter regardless. McNea also pointed out he was the leading student on the team with a perfect 4.0 scholastic average.

Juniors receiving awards were Bill Hopper, Mike McVay, Bruce Christian, Earl Diddle, Mike Jackson, Bob Jones, Bill Jones and Rich Rowley.

Jim Musuraca and Stanley Ice were the only sophomore to receive varsity letters.

Reserve awards were presented to juniors Jim Bess, Rex Campbell, Mike DiPasquale, Roddey Dorsey, John Frederick, Bob Moore, Sam Scott, John Stepien, Leonard Yanni and Don Talbott.

—:—

Manager letters went to Jim Lightfoot, Joe Marrelli, Vince Caparuolo, Phil McCoy, Greg Davis, Joel Seibert and Dave Lockhart.

—:—

VARSITY cheerleaders introduced by Mrs. Carol Parsons were Barbara Rohrer, captain, Linda Crooks, Cathy Duffy, Susie Greenwood, Debbie Emmerling and Jane DeLong. Reserve cheerleaders included Lina Alexander, captain, Bridget Tobin, Marcy Jackson, Susie Williams, Vicky James, Louis McHenry and Debbie Banfield.

There was no guest speaker for the affair, but McNea offered remarks and congratulated the team for an outstanding season. "It was a tremendous year for me and the coaching staff, and we played a more difficult schedule than in the past," McNea said.

"FOOTBALL is a tough, demanding sport and a great sport. It is one which develops boys through hard work, sacrifice and perserverance," he added.

McNea was introduced by Ralph A. Finley, who served as toastmaster. Each member of the team received a plate which showed a picture of the coaching staff. They were purchased by the banquet committee. The Student Boosters Club donated glasses containing the 1966 schedule to each player.

The banquet was sponsored by a committee headed by Steve Chema and Bob Curran, co-chairmen.

Stanton, United Grid Stars On All-Ohio Class A Squad

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Class A champion Marion Catholic landed two players on the 1966 Associated Press All-Ohio football team as the small school scholastic stars won statewide recognition.

Dennis Kapcar, Marion's stellar tackle, and Tim Grady, a fine quarterback who made the team as a linebacker, were the Irish players selected capping a brilliant season for Coach Max Ross' gridders.

Two district gridders were honored on the first team of the Class A All-Ohio squad. Stanton Local's outstanding end Ed Crawford was named to the first team offense at end while United Local's Dick Shultz was named to a tackle berth on the first team defensive unit.

Three other Stanton gridders were named to the honorable mention list. They included backs Joe Wickham and Jack Hale and tackle Bill Koehnlein.

Portsmouth Notre Dame's versatile halfback, Terry Miller, was the only repeater from last year's squad. He made it as a defensive back in 1965 but was named to the offensive backfield this year.

District boards, composed of sports writers and sportscasters from throughout Ohio, helped choose the club.

The fast, powerful backfield that accounted for 76 touchdowns includes Paul (Rocky) Alt of Crestline at quarterback and Roger Davidson of Kent State high and Bob White of South Central in the running spots along with Miller.

Alt, who edged out Mike Sensibaugh of Cincinnati Lockland, tossed 14 touchdown passes while completing 106 of 199 aerials for 1,518 yards.

Davidson tallied 21 times and chalked up 1,373 yards while White scored 16 touchdowns and rushed for 1,242 yards.

Miller, injured in two games, blasted for 925 yards in his seven starts, an average of 11.3 yards each time he carried, and scored 126 points. The 185-pound senior already has offers from Notre Dame and Ohio State.

Outstanding linebacker Mike Von Stein of Cory - Rawson moved up to the first team after winning a spot on the second unit a year ago.

There was heavy competition for backfield honors and Jim O'Hara of Ottawa Hills, Ray Cox of Unioto and Ed Lynch of Millersport were among those who just missed making the first team.

Among the defensive standouts are back Harry Owen of Berlin Center Western Reserve; tackle Dick Shultz of United Local; back Jim Groff of Versailles and two-way performer Earl Willson of Piketon, another back.

Jets, Giants Could Hold Key In Eastern Division

By DICK COUCH

New York's pro football buffs, who counted themselves out of the American and National league title races weeks ago, can count themselves back in this weekend.

Although the Jets are going nowhere and the Giants have been there for sometime, each club may hold the key to its league's Eastern Division championship maze.

The Jets, whose hopes for an unprecedented winning season evaporated at San Diego last Sunday, take on the Boston Patriots, pace-setters in the AFL's Eastern race, at Shea Stadium Saturday. The Pats need either a victory or tie to lock up the division crown.

The Giants, most scored-upon club in NFL history, wind up their losingest season over Sunday when they entertain the explosive Dallas Cowboys at Yankee Stadium. The Cowboys can wrap up the Eastern Conference title before they take the field if Cleveland beats second-place St. Louis Saturday.

But a Cardinal victory would give the fallen Giants a shot at sidetracking Dallas' title express. The Cowboys then would have to either beat or tie New York to clinch their first division championship since they entered the NFL six years ago.

The Cowboys, with the highest scoring offense in the league, rate three-touchdown favorites over New York, which has yielded a record 484 points in sliding to a 1-11-1 season mark.

The Jets, 5-6-2, are six-point underdogs against the Patriots, 8-3-2, who have dropped only one of their last 10 starts.

The Patriots, who lead Buffalo's defending AFL champs by one-half game in the Eastern stretch race, expect Gino Cappelletti, the league's scoring leader, to be ready for full-time duty. Cappelletti nursed a bruised thigh through last Sunday's 38-14 victory at Houston.

Dallas, the NFL's Eastern crown within its grasp last Sunday, bowed to Washington 34-31. Quarterback Don Meredith, injured in the second period against the Redskins, should be ready to call signals against the Giants, who were drubbed by Pittsburgh 47-28 last Sunday.

Elsewhere Sunday, Green Bay's Western Division kings visit Los Angeles, Baltimore is at San Francisco, Minnesota at Chicago, Philadelphia at Washington and Pittsburgh at Atlanta in NFL play; Denver at Buffalo, Houston at Miami and Kansas City, the Western Division champion, at San Diego in the AFL.

Beaver Local Wrestlers Nip Boardman By 23-20

Beaver Local's wrestling team squeezed out a 23-20 victory over Boardman Saturday on the Beaver mats.

Beaver Local won five matches, lost four while two others finished in a draw.

Two important pins for Beaver Local were picked up by Jack Havice, 103-pounder who finished his opponent in 47 seconds while Andy Hall pinned Cook in 2:23.

The Beavers returned to action Friday at Portage Southeast at 7 p. m. The next home match is Dec. 20 with Carrollton.

The results of Saturday's match follow:

103 — Havice (BL) pinned VanSuch (B) 47 seconds.

112 — Evans (BL) decisioned Stanley (B) 2-0.

120 — Heaver (B) pinned Rohr (BL).

127 — Yates (B) won by forfeit.

133 — Pugh (BL) decisioned Gregory (B) 8-2.

138 — Hagman (B) decisioned Brown (BL) 7-2.

145 — Andy Hall (BL) pinned Cook (B) 2:23.

154 — Hoppel (BL) decisioned Magmore (B) 4-2.

165 — Campbell (BL) and Grimm (B) 2-2 draw.

175 — McCartney (B) decisioned McKenzie (BL(7-1.

Heavyweight — Sowards (BL) and Williams (B) 2-2 draw.

Game Injury Fatal

PARKVILLE, Md. (AP) — Joseph H. Sharp, Jr., 20, died Monday after suffering a brain concussion during a sandlot football game here.

Torres Is Quite Confident In Fight With Tiger

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Jose Torres doesn't defend his light heavyweight championship against Dick Tiger until Friday, but already Torres is talking about meeting Cassius Clay.

"I'm real serious about going after Clay," Torres said Monday here at his training headquarters for the Madison Square Garden fight.

"If I can knock out Tiger that will help me both for the Fighter of the Year award and for a shot at Clay."

This business of knocking out Tiger, the former champion, is no small matter, though. In 71 fights, nobody has knocked out the Nigerian.

Torres, at 30, is seven years younger than Tiger and is a 3-1 favorite to win his fourth title defense of the year.

Baseball Given Freedom To Move

Supreme Court Declines To Review Braves Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized baseball apparently has the freedom to move its teams from city to city without fear of violating antitrust laws.

The Supreme Court declined Monday to review a Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling that organized baseball is immune to the state's antitrust law.

The state of Wisconsin fought to retain the National League Braves, who moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta last season.

Baseball has been immune from antitrust prosecution under federal laws for 44 years. The high court's action Monday assures it the same immunity from state antitrust laws.

By refusing to consider the Wisconsin case, the court left baseball free either to limit or expand the number of teams and to choose the cities that will have them.

The Braves' initial move — from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953 — touched off a wave of franchise shifting and expansion which has not stopped. The St. Louis Browns moved to Baltimore, the New York Giants to San Francisco, the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City and the Washington Senators to Minnesota.

New franchises were granted in the American League to Los Angeles and Washington, and in the National League to Houston and New York. The Los Angeles Angels have since moved to Anaheim, Calif.

In Madison, Wis., however, state Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette said the state is considering asking the Supreme Court for a rehearing.

And in Milwaukee, Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., said he would reintroduce legislation to strip organized baseball of its federal antitrust exemption. His similar bill died in committee in the 89th Congress.

The high court has heard cases for the second time only on rare occasions.

In saying Wisconsin might ask the Supreme Court for a second chance, La Follette noted that the state's plea had fallen only one vote short of the necessary backing to win a review of the case.

At least four of the nine justices must agree to bring a case before the Supreme Court for argument.

Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. said they would have heard the case. Justice Abe Fortas noted he took no part in the consideration or decision.

Wisconsin had asked the high court to review and reverse the 4-3 decision of the State's Supreme Court which ruled July 27 that organized baseball was immune from Wisconsin's antitrust law.

UCLA Stays 1st Among Cage Teams

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There is no threat this week to UCLA's standing as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll because the powerful Bruins are not scheduled. Second-ranked Texas Western and fourth-rated Kentucky, though, seem to have difficult tasks ahead.

Texas Western meets fifth-ranked New Mexico Friday while Kentucky faces sixth-ranked North Carolina Tuesday.

UCLA was a unanimous choice in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. The Bruins were placed in the top position by all 36 selectors on the national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bruins, 3-0, defeated Duke twice last week, 88-54 Friday and 107-87 Saturday. The No. 1 team does not play again until Dec. 22 when it takes on Colorado State.

Texas Western, 5-0, held second place after defeating East Texas, Pan American and Southern Methodist.

Louisville switched places with Kentucky, the Cardinals moving to third and the Wildcats slipping to fourth. Louisville beat Southwestern Louisiana and Southern Illinois while Kentucky lost to Illinois in overtime and came back to down Northwestern.

New Mexico, winner over Loyola of LOS Angeles and texas Tech, advanced one place to fifth.

North Carolina, Brigham Young, Michigan State, Houston and Cincinnati complete the first ten in that order.

Michigan State, 4-0 including victories last week over South Dakota and Wichita State, is the only new team in the rankings. The Spartans replaced Duke, which has lost three of four games.

Houston, only member of the Top Ten to play Monday night, shrugged off four technical fouls and buried visiting St. Mary's, Calif., 90-74 for its fifth victory in six starts.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis:

1.	UCLA (36)	360
2.	Texas Western	316
3.	Louisville	207
4.	Kentucky	149
5.	New Mexico	137
6.	North Carolina	134
7.	Brigham Young	125
8.	Michigan St.	108
9.	Houston	63
10.	Cincinnati	57

Browns Coach Helped Irish With Passing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Part of Notre Dame's passing attack can be credited to Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier, Irish Coach Ara Parseghian said Monday night at the Cleveland Touchdown Club's banquet.

Parseghian, featured speaker, said he contacted Collier last spring. "We felt we had a good passer and receiver coming up so I came to Cleveland and talked to Collier about passing," Parseghian said.

Parseghian said he knew Collier had developed quarterback Frank Ryan and flanker Paul Warfield. "I learned a lot from him," the Notre Dame skipper said. The information received from Collier helped Parseghian work with quarterback Terry Hanratty and end Jim Seymour, both sophomores.

Parseghian led the Irish to the national collegiate championship this season.

Wyoming Grid Coach Agrees To New Pact

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Football Coach Lloyd Eaton of the University of Wyoming has agreed to a new contract to remain at the Cowboy gridiron helm through January 1970, with automatic renewal upon mutual consent into 1973.

The university's trustees announced Monday the contract signing but the amount of Eaton's contract was not made public.

During his five years at Wyoming, the Pokes have compiled an over-all 32-16-2 record.

BG Coach ? Officials

Falcons Drop 1st To Niagara Quint

Something had to give when Bowling Green and Niagara matched unbeaten records on the basketball court at Niagara Falls Monday night.

"Something" turned out to be the officials, in the estimation of Coach Porky Scholler of the Ohio team.

Scholler, watching the arbiters call 20 fouls on Bowling Green and just 11 on Niagara, felt they were giving his Falcons the business and giving the Purple Eagles the ball game.

Eventually, he disputed a referee's call and was assessed a technical foul for good measure.

The result, with Niagara sinking 18 of 25 free throws while Bowling Green got just 5 of 10, was Niagara 68, Bowling Green 57.

The Eagles, with Emmanuel Leaks of Cleveland at center, rambled to a 38-23 halftime lead. Al Hairston's eight-point spurt pulled the BeeGees to within 43-36 — at which point the technical was called on their coach and the rally's momentum died.

This was Niagara's fourth straight victory while Bowling Green, with ace Walt Piatkowski limited to eight points, incurred its first loss in five decisions.

In other Ohio college play:

Xavier matched BG's 4-1 record by creaming Tampa 87-39 in Cincinnati behind Bob Quick's 24 points.

Youngstown moved to 3-1 by turning back Texas Southern 83-75.

Baldwin-Wallace challenged Loyola of Chicago through much of the first half but finally became the undefeated Ramblers' fourth victim 105-80.

Wilberforce walloped Walsh 83-49.

Koufax's Final Season Was Best Of 12 Years

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Sandy Koufax left the game of baseball in style making his last season the best of his fabulous 12-year career.

The 30-year-old lefthander led the league in six categories, according to official National League statistics, and was tied for first in two others. He also set two major league records and one National League record.

Koufax finished the season with an earned run average of 1.73—leading the league for the fifth year in a row. Grover Cleveland Alexander, the National League ace of the 1920s, also led the circuit five times, but not in successive years.

Sandy set another major league season record by striking out 317 batters—the third time in a row he had passed the 300 mark. His 27-9 record represents the first time any National League lefthander has won that many games in one season.

Jim Bunning of Philadelphia and Koufax both started 41 games, but Sandy completed 27 of these to Bunnings' 16, and worked more innings (323) and pitched to more batters (1,274) than any other National League pitcher in 1966.

Bunning was second, facing 1,-254 batters in 314 innings, and came in fourth in the ERA sweepstakes with a 2.41. The leader was Houston's Mike Cuellar, 2.22.

Veteran Linebacker Fiss To Retire From Football

CLEVELAND (AP)— Galen Fiss, veteran linebacker and captain of the Cleveland Browns the past four seasons, has decided to call it quits.

"Joining the Browns was the greatest thing that ever happened to me and my family," the former University of Kansas fullback said Monday.

Fiss was a regular in his rookie year (1956) after being drafted 11th in 1953.

He said he would retire Saturday if the Browns lose in St. Louis or Jan. 8 if the Browns make it to the National Football League playoff bowl in Miami.

Fiss said the 1966 season has "been disappointing in a couple of ways.

"First, of course, I'm disappointed because we didn't win the title.

"We started with such high hopes," he added. "We've been up there enough to feel we belong there. Then there is my own situation. When I signed my contract I wasn't planning to be a swing linebacker. That's the way it worked out, though."

Fiss filled in occasionally and played on speciality teams, such as kick offs and punts.

The Browns moved Johnny Brewer, a tight end last season, into Fiss' left side linebacker spot when the team started its exhibition schedule.

"I'll tell you one thing," Fiss said. "I certainly have gained new admiration for all the fellows on these (speciality) teams. It's tough sitting on the bench. I know that anyone on a pro football squad wants to be a regular."

The Browns, (8-5) defending Eastern Conference champs, can make the playoff bowl only if they beat St. Louis Sunday and Philadelphia loses to Washington.

Who ever thought that this much money could be owned by a properly trained Restaurant Manager in this area? Well, we have quite a few in this category, who, just several years ago were salesmen, dairy stand operators, in hospital food service, or simply other restaurant managers who became stymied in their previous job.

Morgan's Restaurants in Butler, Pa. are currently undergoing another expansion program and consequently, we need some more $12,000 a year men. If you've ever entertained the thought of getting into the mammoth food business as it is today, now is the time to send us a letter telling us about yourself and when you'd be available for an interview. You may be awfully glad you did.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEAVES

QUESTION: Why do the leaves of trees fall?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In the summer, the leaves of the broad-leaf trees are very busy making plant food. But it would not be possible for them to keep on doing this during the severe northern winters. So, when fall comes in the north, a group of corky cells grows across the bottom of the leaf steam, shutting off the leaf from the tree. The green chlorophyll, used in making plant food, disappears, revealing chemical pigments underneath which blaze out in the wonderful fall colors. The leaf withers and drops off. But the tree has prepared for the future; a little bud has grown in the crotch just above the point to which the leaf stem was attached. With the warm spring days, the bud comes to life. It opens, and a fresh new leaf is on its way. In warmer, more southern climates, the leaves do not have to fall in this way. The leaves of southern trees grow old and drop off every now and then, as do the leaves of the needle-leaf evergreens. New leaves are constantly appearing; as a result, such trees remain green.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: If you live in the north, look for next season's buds, as Jerry is doing. If in the south, look for old leaves which have fallen.

★ ★ ★

Robin A. Kapitan of Fitchburg, Mass., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 13, the 347th day of 1966. There are 18 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1775, the Continental Congress authorized the building of 13 ships of war. A few merchant ships had been commissioned before this date but it generally is regarded as the birthday of the U.S. Navy.

On this date:

In 1781, a day of prayer and thanksgiving was observed throughout the original 13 colonies at the end of the Revolutionary War.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson arrived in France to participate in peace negotiations at Versailles.

In 1924, American labor leader Samuel Gompers died.

In 1944, Army and Navy commanders conferred in the Pacific with Adm. Chester Nimitz to lay out plans of war against Japan.

Ten years ago — News dispatches from Manila set the death toll in the Philippines as a result of Typhoon Polly at 79.

Five years ago — A fire roared through a shipyard in Gdansk, Poland, killing 22 persons.

Freeze-dried coffee is here!

A brand-new kind of coffee from a brand-new process called Freeze-Dried. Now you get the flavor of fresh-perked and the convenience of instant.

They said it couldn't be done. You couldn't combine the look, the flavor and the aroma of real fresh-perked coffee with the convenience of an instant. But that was before exclusive Taster's Choice Freeze-Dried process was discovered.

We perk a perfect cup of coffee.

Instant is Instant. Freeze-Dried is something else. They're as different as night from day. Freeze-Dried is not just a new way to make an instant. Freeze-Dried is a completely new kind of coffee. Coffee that looks, smells and tastes like your own fresh-perked. Now, for the first time, a dependably perfect coffee you can count on for perfect flavor. Time after time after time.

Freeze-Dried starts with perfect-perked coffee. Our coffee is perked by experts using an exclusive new method. We begin with coffee from freshly-ground, premium coffee beans. Perfect measure. Perfect timing. The result? Hearty, robust perfect-perked coffee with the kind of flavor you'd like to get every time.

We freeze it to trap the flavor.

The big difference. Here's where our Taster's Choice Coffee leaves all others. We freeze it . . . quick as a wink . . . to forty degrees below zero. This sudden cold traps all the freshly-brewed coffee flavor and aroma. Next, all the ice is vacuumed away. Dry vacuumed, so not one bit of the flavor and aroma is lost.

We remove the ice—dry.

The best is left for last. There it is. What's left is pure fresh-brewed coffee—in crystals that look just like ground coffee, yet needs no refrigeration. Taster's Choice Freeze-Dried Coffee. And all you do to bring out that fresh-perked coffee flavor is add boiling water.

Just like that, you're a champion coffee maker every time. Taster's Choice has all the deep, rich flavor you used to have to perk up a pot for . . . when you wanted real coffee. Try it. Taster's Choice Coffee. The secret is Freeze-Dried. It looks like, smells like and tastes like your own fresh-perked. Maybe even better.

You just add boiling water.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEAVES

QUESTION: Why do the leaves of trees fall?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In the summer, the leaves of the broad-leaf trees are very busy making plant food. But it would not be possible for them to keep on doing this during the severe northern winters. So, when fall comes in the north, a group of corky cells grows across the bottom of the leaf steam, shutting off the leaf from the tree. The green chlorophyll, used in making plant food, disappears, revealing chemical pigments underneath which blaze out in the wonderful fall colors. The leaf withers and drops off. But the tree has prepared for the future; a little bud has grown in the crotch just above the point to which the leaf stem was attached. With the warm spring days, the bud comes to life. It opens, and a fresh new leaf is on its way. In warmer, more southern climates, the leaves do not have to fall in this way. The leaves of southern trees grow old and drop off every now and then, as do the leaves of the needle-leaf evergreens. New leaves are constantly appearing; as a result, such trees remain green.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: If you live in the north, look for next season's buds, as Jerry is doing. If in the south, look for old leaves which have fallen.

Perfect timing. The result? Hearty, robust perfect-perked coffee with the kind of flavor you'd like to get every time.

We freeze it to trap the flavor.

The big difference. Here's where our Taster's Choice Coffee leaves all others. We freeze it . . . quick as a wink . . . to forty degrees below zero. This sudden cold traps all the freshly-brewed coffee flavor and aroma. Next, all the ice is vacuumed away. Dry vacuumed, so not one bit of the flavor and aroma is lost.

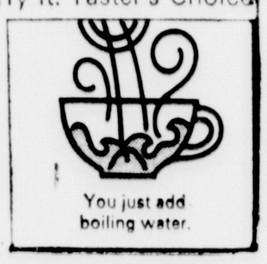

We remove the ice—dry.

Just like that, you're a champion coffee maker every time.
